Says He's 'Broke'

Still in Buenos Aires, where he arrived recently after evading Argentine immigration requirements, Vittorio Mussolini, above, 31-year-old son of the late dictator of Italy, says he is without resources and must find a job. An official indicated recently it was expected a way to legalize Vittorio's entry would be found. His wife and two children are in Milan.

V-Day Anniversary Gets Little Attention In European Lands

LONDON (AP)—Europe virtually ignored the second anniversary of VE-Day today in its preoccupation with finding food and shelter.

The British War Office said no official celebration had been planned. The BBC scheduled a late 15-minute commemorative broadcast.

Premier Paul Ramadier laid a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Paris and there was a brief military parade.

U.S. occupation troops in Berlin held a formal review with 4,000 soldiers participating for 45 minutes before members of the American community only.

Concert Date

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Concert manager Thomas P. Beagle announced today that Margaret Truman, daughter of the President, will make her first concert stage appearance here May 20.

Prime Minister King Urges End Of Dispute Over Barbara Ann

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister King today cabled J. C. Patterson, Canadian representative on the International Olympic Committee, saying the Canadian government would "appreciate you do all possible to protect the interests" of Barbara Ann Scott.

Patterson was awaiting details of the case and proposed to telephone the facts to J. S. Edstrom, president of the Olympic Committee at Stockholm.

(In Stockholm Wednesday night Swedish amateur athletic leaders expressed the opinion that Miss Scott, holder of the world's figure skating championship, would be disqualified from next year's Olympic Games unless she returns the automobile presented to her by her home city of Ottawa.

(Miss Scott has said the automobile will be returned.)

E. J. Holt, director of the organizing committee for the Olympics, said it was "difficult to define a distinction as to amateurs and professionals where presents are concerned" and said he believed the case should be submitted to the international federation for a ruling.

He was critical of any suggestion of Canadian government intervention, saying "politics has no business in sports."

STATEMENTS IN TORONTO

TORONTO (CP)—The international hullabaloo over Barbara Ann Scott's amateur status died down today. The pretty 18-year-old Ottawa girl who won the world women's figure skating championship at Stockholm, said here today her conscience was clear as regarded the gift by the city of Ottawa of a sporty yellow motorcar.

Barbara and her mother, Mrs. Clyde Scott, who arrived in Toronto Wednesday night from London, Ont., said they had not thought the gift from their Ot-

Jewish Agency Pleads Case To United Nations

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—The Jewish Agency for Palestine called on the United Nations today to remove barriers against establishment of a Jewish national home in the Holy Land.

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, U.S. section chairman of the Jewish Agency executive, made the demand before the General Assembly's 55-member political committee in the first official appearance of a non-government organization in debate over the future of Palestine.

The Arab Higher Committee meanwhile continued its boycott of the U.N. pending a decision from Cairo. There the exiled Grand Mufti was reported considering the Assembly's invitation of Wednesday according to the Arab group equal status with the Jewish Agency in committee hearings.

BEFORE COMMITTEE

The Arab Committee Wednesday was granted equal status with the Jewish Agency to testify before the political committee. In Cairo, a spokesman for the former Grand Mufti, Haj Amin Effendi el Hussein, said the Mufti had under consideration the U.N. invitation to the Arab Higher Committee.

"A decision is expected to be sent to the Arab delegates in New York today or tomorrow," the spokesman added.

The U.N. Secretariat meanwhile announced receipt of a demand from the Palestine Communist Party central committee for a full hearing in the Assembly.

The Communists asked for participation rights before both the Assembly and its subsidiary bodies.

The application cabled from the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv and signed by Meir Vilner said that "without giving a hearing to representatives of Palestine anti-imperialist forces no complete correct picture of the Palestine problem would be obtainable."

The deadline for receipt of requests for hearing of non-government organizations was set for midnight.

The requests of four Jewish organizations aside from the Jewish Agency have been side-tracked by a five-member subcommittee, and the request of the Orthodox Agudath Israel world organization was left pending until Friday. Agudath was said to have the support of the United States and Britain in its bid for a hearing.

Jap Dancer Murdered

TOKYO (AP)—The nude body of Rumi Suzuki, who Japanese police said was well known in the United States as a ballet dancer, was found in a manhole in downtown Tokyo today. Police said the 44-year-old woman might have been murdered for the wealth she accumulated in the United States, which she left in 1930.

U.S. President Sure World To Achieve Lasting Peace

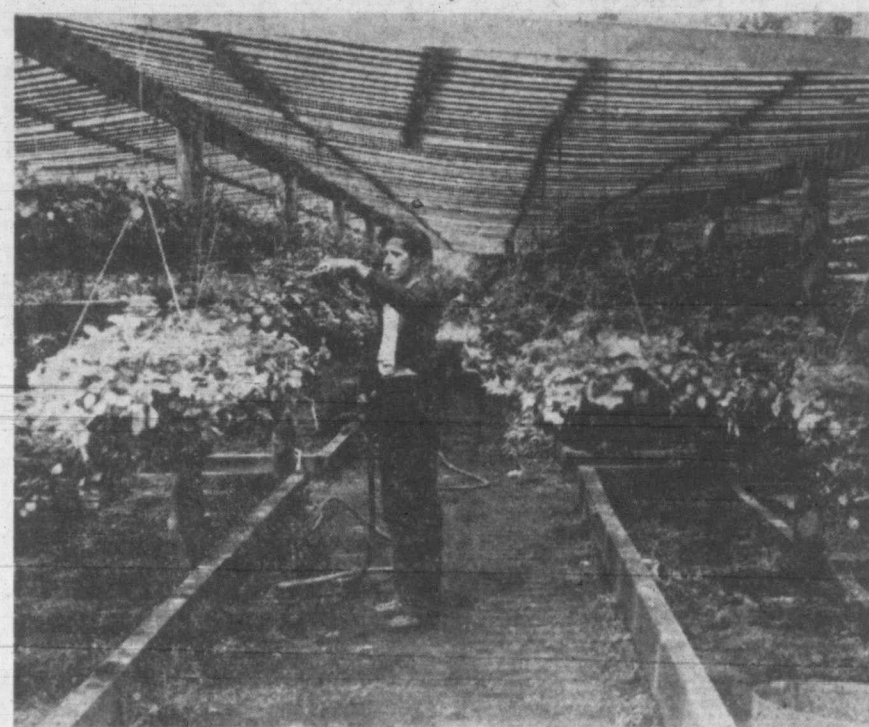

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman told a birthday press conference today he is certain that the world eventually will achieve a lasting peace.

Summing up the two years since he announced victory over Germany May 8, 1945, Mr. Truman said the United States has surmounted many obstacles and that he is confident of its ability to survive others.

His political philosophy, the President said, is unchanged and he is still an optimist. As sure as he was standing there before the correspondents, he said, he was sure that the world would get a lasting peace and a vital United Nations.

The President, 63 today, made it clear that, until peace is consummated, he has no intention of withdrawing Myron C. Taylor as his personal envoy to the Vatican.

Flower Baskets Almost Ready To Go Out

Mark Perry, one of the city gardeners, is shown watering some of the 550 flower baskets which will be hung on Victoria lamp-posts to delight the tourists again this year. The baskets are a little farther advanced this year than last, and may go out by May 24. Last year it was early in June before they were ready. The gardeners at Beacon Hill nursery have been working on the preparation of the baskets since early spring, filling them with special preparation of moss and soil, growing the plants from seed or slips in the greenhouses. First the baskets are kept in the greenhouses when the little plants are transplanted from the flats, and finally hung outdoors to "harden" for a month or six weeks before they are put up as they come into bloom. Included in the flowers put into the baskets are fuchsias, marigolds, geraniums, petunias, allysum, and lobelia.

Search Returns To Straits After New Lead Proves Futile

Search for the Trans-Canada Air Lines transport returned to the Gulf of Georgia off Gabriola Island today after another possible clue, which had directed searchers to Burrard Inlet, proved futile.

The transport disappeared 10 days ago while on a flight from Lethbridge to Vancouver with three crew members and 12 passengers aboard.

Searchers were directed to Burrard Inlet seven miles west of the Lions Gate bridge after Gordon Wilson, fisherman and former R.C.A.F. maintenance man, recovered an eight-inch square piece of metal which he identified as having been part of and aircraft.

R.C.A.F. officials reported today the jagged piece of metal did not come from the lost airliner but was part of a service aircraft which crashed in 1941.

Naval authorities directing the underwater investigation off the south coast of Gabriola Island said today they had found nothing. Diving and dragging operations at this site, are now in their third day.

Flower petals, cloth and an oil slick were found earlier by searchers after H.M.C.S. Antigonish had contacted encouraging evidence with anti-submarine gear.

Joining in the search where Antigonish had left off, the R.C.N. tugs Heatherton and Glendevon found a buoy placed over the contact spot by Antigonish had disappeared. Heatherton and an R.C.A.F. vessel put down two marker buoys about 700 feet apart to mark the area.

Wednesday's search was made north of the line between the two buoys. Today's search is being made on the line south side of the area searched Wednesday.

A jagged and uneven seafloor is making naval diving operations difficult. In one area, the seafloor falls to a depth of approximately 85 feet, rises to a depth of 40 feet and then falls again to 80 feet.

A possible source of the contact made by Antigonish is a which, which a fisherman told searchers he had lost in the approximate area of search two years ago.

Average Taxes On Saanich Homes Will Be $10 More

An average increase in taxation of $10 on every home is the result of the increased mill rate set in the municipality of Saanich Wednesday night when the estimates were passed.

John Tribe, municipal clerk, gives the following examples to show the increases this year over last under the new rate:

In district No. 61, on a home with a taxable value of $2,400, based on assessment of 100 per cent of land, and 55 per cent of improvements, taxes will rise from $56.34 to $65.96, and on one with a taxable value of $4,500 they will rise from $91.14 to $112.50.

In district No. 63, property with a taxable value of $1,600 on land and improvements, show a tax increase from $37.85 to $42.50; and a farm in the rural area of 30 acres, with improvements assessed at $2,500 and land assessed at $900 will show a tax increase from $71 to $80. (See Page 16 for Saanich tax rate).

Data Uncovered By Surveyors Changes Picture

By NORMAN MacLEOD
Times Staff Correspondent

OTTAWA — A conference to consider recently uncovered data expected to "change the whole picture" in regard to Pacific Great Eastern extension plans is scheduled here tomorrow, British Columbia Premier John Hart announced today.

Attending it will be Federal Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier, Premier Hart, Canadian National Railways vice-president S. W. Fairweather, who is being summoned from Montreal especially for the meeting, and Deputy Minister of Railways J. M. Stewart of British Columbia.

The conference has been called as a sequel to a meeting on P.G.E. matters which Mr. Hart held Wednesday with Transport Minister Chevrier and Finance Minister Douglas Abbott.

TELLS OF RESOURCES

The B.C. Premier laid before the federal government the latest information which the provincial authorities have received on the coal, oil and agricultural resources of the Peace River district and outlined the development policy which the provincial government believes should be undertaken immediately in the light of the impressive nature of recent discoveries.

Tomorrow's conference was decided upon by the federal ministers following Mr. Hart's representations. The decision to summon Mr. Fairweather, C.N.R. vice-president in charge of resources and development, to attend was also taken.

Mr. Fairweather was the C.N.R. representative on the joint committee on P.G.E. extension which submitted its findings to the government in the spring of 1946. The joint committee comprised representatives from the Dominion and provincial governments, the C.P.R. and C.N.R. railways and later the Alberta Government.

Since that report was filed, two surveys have been made. On the instruction of the Premier, Mr. Stewart, the Deputy Minister, proceeded with a location survey through the Pine Pass, and also studied the C.P.R. survey of the Peace Pass, making revisions in the light of further information secured during the past 12 months from survey parties sent into the field.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

Concurrently, a resources survey was instituted under the direction of Dr. Thomas Williams, outstanding geological engineer. Mr. Hart will lay before Mr. Fairweather the full details of Mr. Stewart's survey, which is complete, and also the most recent information from the resources survey which has been concentrating its work largely in the region of Hassler Creek, which is on the line of the proposed Pine Pass route.

"The data gathered during the past 12 months, it is believed, will change the whole picture regarding extension plans, which in turn is expected to lead to greater progress toward consummation of an arrangement for the P.G.E. extension and development of the Peace River country," Premier Hart told newspapermen today.

London's Dead Unburied, Refuse Piled In Streets

LONDON (Reuters)—Health Minister Aneurin Bevan admitted today that the dead are lying unburied, the streets uncleaned and public conveniences closed in London because of the unofficial strike of 1,000 city employees which began 10 days ago over the promotion of a market constable at London's Billingsgate fish market.

Answering Sir Jocelyn Lucas, Conservative, who demanded to know what the government intended to do about this state of affairs, Bevan declared in the House of Commons:

"I regard the stoppage of the workers responsible for burying and scavenging and other services of a vital health nature as fundamentally irresponsible and if the strike does not end quickly, I shall take action."

Dr. Charles White, medical officer of health for the city, said that unless the strike ended today special dumps for rubbish would be set up on bomb sites, to which residents of the area would have to bring their garbage.

At the same time there was danger the strike would spread. Shop stewards representing 2,000 municipal employees of Stepney, in London's east end, were to meet tonight to recommend strike action in support of the city workers.

Meanwhile, at the fish market 10 days' accumulation of market refuse lay about the market roads and the market itself was littered with fish heads and tails, old newspapers and straw.

Tourist Buses Just Miss Malahat Cave-in

Local Provincial Works Department employees were today repairing a cave-in on the Island Highway which occurred Wednesday afternoon at about Mile 15 on the Malahat.

The highway was reported to have given away apparently because of water seepage underneath. Two large sightseeing buses narrowly escaped running into the hole.

On a curve near the foot of the hill leading up to the Scenic View lookout station, the hole was reported to be on a level section of the highway some distance from the precipitous heights.

Russia Wants 400 Carloads Of Flour U.S. Donated To Romania

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department reported today that Russia is demanding 400 freight carloads of white flour from Romania, where the United States has been sending emergency food shipments to help cope with famine conditions.

The department said in an announcement that it was advised that the Romanians are about to meet the demand and deliver the flour, which is for use of Soviet military occupation forces in Romania.

The reported transfer therefore does not directly violate Romanian commitments to the United States not to export indigenous food supplies while receiving emergency aid from this country.

A department official said press reports that some food is being actually sent out of the country are being investigated. If found true, he said, the United States will have no recourse but to cease giving emergency aid.

From Iran To California On Faith Healing Mission

Avak Hagopian, 20, Armenian faith healer, is at Palm Springs, Cal., today, where Kirkor Arakelian, millionaire retired vintner, hopes he will be able to cure his son, Vaughan, 37, who has suffered from epilepsy and related ailments since he was struck by a bus as a boy of 9. The elder Arakelian had the bearded healer flown 10,000 miles from Cairo as "a last resort." A member of Hagopian's party said he had effected many cures in Iran. Greeted at LaGuardia airport, New York, as he passed through, Hagopian is shown above with Dr. Smbat Eghisarian (left) and Gebarg H. Zahakian.

Talk Of Depression Surest Way To Create One, Commons Told

OTTAWA (CP)—In a double-barreled attack on the government and the C.C.F. in the Commons Wednesday, Hon. Earl Rowe, P.C., Dufferin-Simcoe, Ont., criticized the government's 1947-48 budget and warned C.C.F. members that one of the quickest ways to bring on depression was to talk continually about the possibility of one.

Saying there was nothing more "fearsome than fear," Mr. Rowe said the C.C.F. would hasten a depression by its continuous talk about an economic recession. He made the statement after charging the government with "inefficiency and reckless extravagance" and with making "very little preparation" for the normal and perhaps disturbing days that lie ahead.

The one-time Conservative cabinet minister spoke in the budget speech debate shortly after Ross Thatcher, C.C.F., Moose Jaw, had charged the government had disclosed no plans on how it would ward off a depression.

Mr. Thatcher said the $332,000,000 surplus reported in the budget for the 1946-47 fiscal year had been made possible by sales by the War Assets Corporation and by removal of subsidies on essential farm products.

The debate, resumed shortly after the House opened, was preceded by a statement from Labor Minister Mitchell that several hundred Polish soldiers will arrive in Canada within the next two weeks and will be put in touch with provincial authorities to serve as farm labor.

In the Senate, third reading was given to the bill continuing the Canadian Wheat Board until 1950 to allow it to fill the 600,000,000 bushel, four-year wheat contract with Britain.

Senators began study of the government's main control bill, and three Liberal members joined in an attack on continuing restrictions against Japanese citizens of Canada. The senators were Arthur Roebuck, Lib., Ontario; Senator T. A. Crerar, Lib., Manitoba; and Senator W. A. Buchanan, Lib., Alberta.

Brooke Stephenson Again President Of Realtors Here

The Real Estate Board of Victoria at its 26th annual meeting Wednesday, re-elected Brooke Stephenson president. J. Arthur Wild and Jack Fraser will again serve as first vice-president and second vice-president respectively.

Re-elected to serve on the executive were H. Cuthbert Holmes, R. H. Shanks, and E. F. Burton. Newly elected to the executive are Ald. F. N. Cabellu and J. Denis Hagar.

Hubert Lethaby, re-appointed for his 24th year as secretary-treasurer, stated the membership of the board now totaled 67. Of this amount, he said, 45 were active members and 22 were associate, affiliate or life members.

Mr. Stephenson, in his report, urged the establishment of a provincial real estate board to act in an advisory capacity to the government in dealing with applications for licenses to operate as real estate dealers. This board, he continued, would operate for the protection and benefit of the public. He noted the financing of such a board could be easily met by an increase in the license fees paid by agents.

Mr. Stephenson also noted the increase in taxation which, he said, is still mounting. He viewed this situation with alarm and stated he hoped the municipalities would retrench as soon as possible, at the same time seek avenues whereby revenue may be secured from other sources.

"There is a limit which can be borne by the property owner," he said. In a brief address to the board Mayor Percy George stressed the importance of the new transportation franchise which was being prepared for the approval of the public. He pointed to the fact that property values increased or decreased in proportion to the efficiency of the transportation system which served its district. Mayor George said he hoped this would be the last transportation franchise to be presented to the voters.

Other guests who spoke briefly were B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs; E. G. Rowbottom, deputy minister of trade and commerce; Councillor Cecil Annett, Oak Bay; Councillor A. C. Wurtele, Esquimalt; and George I. Warren, commissioner of Victoria and Island Publicity. Vera Mesher, municipal clerk of Esquimalt, represented that municipality.

One appeal was dismissed and judgment reserved in another, by the Court of Appeal, Wednesday.

McLellan, who was sentenced to 25 months on a charge of breaking and entering a Vancouver confectionery, last July.

D. J. McAlpine appeared for McLellan while Lorne H. Jackson was crown counsel.

Canada's Position Second Only To U.S. In Atomic Development

TORONTO (CP)—Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of Canada's Atomic Energy Control Board, said today the Dominion had attained a position in atomic development second only to that of the United States in the war and announced $150,000 will be granted three Canadian universities for important atomic research studies in the fields of medicine, chemistry and other peacetime uses.

He made the announcement in an address before the Engineering Institute of Canada in which he reviewed Canada's role in wartime atomic research, her hopes for future control and emphasized that her present research in this vast field is directed toward peaceful application of atomic energy.

Subject to ratification by parliament, the one-time leader of the Canadian army said $87,500 would be granted to McGill University, which already has erected a new laboratory in which a 100,000,000 electron volt cyclotron is being constructed.

The University of British Columbia will receive $32,500 to assist in provision of a Van de Graaf generator, and $30,000 will go to the University of Saskatchewan toward purchase of a 20,000,000 electron volt betatron.

Such equipment was not available at Canada's atomic energy pilot plant at Chalk River, Ont., and will put the universities "in a position to undertake important research studies which cannot now be carried out elsewhere in Canada."

The general said he would emphasize that Canadian research "is being devoted to the acquisition of fundamental knowledge in nuclear physics and towards the peacetime applications of atomic energy."

CONTROL ATOM METALS
"However, the successful use of the atomic bomb during the war has shown that the board cannot ignore the possible danger to our national security resulting from non-peaceful applications. Consequently, when the wartime controls over substances useful in the production of atomic bombs expired last month the board issued regulations controlling dealings in these substances to ensure that they did not fall into improper hands."

He reviewed Canada's part in wartime atomic development, her establishment of the Chalk River plant, which is now under the direction of the National Research Council laboratories at Ottawa as far back as 1938.

"Thus, as a consequence of our war effort in the field of atomic energy, Canada attained a position in development which, while not in the same order of magnitude as that of the United States, was nevertheless second only to that country."

Calgary Old-timer Dies

CALGARY (CP)—One of Calgary's best known old-timers, John Enoch Prince, 88, who came to Calgary in 1886 to serve as chief engineer at the Eau Claire sawmills, died in a hospital Wednesday night.

Army To Run Schools

OTTAWA (CP)—The defence department came up with a new wrinkle today for its postwar armed forces—special schools for children of married servicemen stationed at camps where regular educational facilities are not within a reasonable distance.

Defence Minister Claxton said such special schools now had been authorized by the defence department and a recent order provides for establishment of schools in army camps at Shilo, Man., Borden, Ont., and Barrie, Ont.

Plans also are under way for provision of a special school at Fort Churchill, Man., Canada's northerly winter experimental station, and negotiations are being carried on with the province of Manitoba to provide a teacher.

It is expected another school will be opened at Rivers, Man., when the joint air training school begins to function there.

Mayhew Makes His Stand Clear On Jap Question

OTTAWA — R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, made his position quite clear on the Japanese question in the House of Commons. He hit off strongly at the attitude of eastern Canada and defended the actions of the people of British Columbia. He also said the Japanese had been given preferential treatment over other Asiatic races in Canada.

"In 1942, after Pearl Harbor, I was one of those who wired Ottawa in connection with the picking up of the Jap fishing boats on the coast," Mr. Mayhew said. "However, that was not necessary because the navy was ahead of everybody and did an excellent job in picking up some 1,200 fishing boats and bringing them into harbor."

"I later tried to persuade the government that the Pacific coast area should be closed of Japanese for defence purposes and I spoke on that in both 1942 and 1943. I asked that the Japanese be removed from the Pacific coast area in units of families, because I believed that was the most humane way of treating them and the best plan also so far as the government was concerned. By the removal of them in units of families into the interior of the province and to the prairies and to the central provinces they could help to feed our armies and our allies, but if we put them in concentration camps we had to feed them. One way they would have been helping us and the other way they would have been helping Japan."

JAPS HAD PREFERENCE

"Later on, when the Japanese were moved to camps along the Canadian National right of way I objected to their staying in that position because it was not a safe position. Since that time I have refrained from taking part in the debates on this question. I refrained for two reasons. One was that Canada has treated the Japanese better than any other of the Oriental races. We have permitted practical slavery among the Chinese people due to our laws, which I think should be canceled just as soon as possible. We have not allowed them to come in with their wives, nor have we allowed the Hindus to come in with their wives. But the Japanese were allowed to bring their wives in and to set up homes and live like the rest of us, although they have failed to do that in a number of places."

"When our security commission wanted to move the Japanese people to other provinces in Canada, what did we find? The other provinces immediately started bargaining with the security commission for these Japanese. They said, yes, you can move in men who are capable of working and earning a living, provided that, when the war is over, you move them out again. Furthermore, that was practically the attitude of all the provincial authorities and we have seen the same attitude in other places.

THE EAST'S ATTITUDE

"The member for St. Paul's said in this House that no Japanese would come to the city of Toronto if he could avoid it. The mayor of Ottawa is reported to have said that no Japanese are going to come to Ottawa, and other people in responsible places have said the same thing."

"What has that meant? It has meant that the rest of Canada is trying to put British Columbia in the position where she should shoulder the whole blame; and I refuse to do that. They are trying to make out, because we in British Columbia say we do not want the Japanese back, that the people of British Columbia are un-Christian and a heathen people, implying that people in eastern Canada are all saints."

"I say, let the people in the other parts of Canada come forward and say: We will not force anything on you, but we will welcome these Japanese people and treat them as Christians, thereby proving our Christianity. I am quite sure that British Columbia will then say the same and will go as far as they will in our Christian treatment of the Japanese. One Christian act never made a Christian, and one act of felony never made a felon, but if people in other parts of Canada will adopt that principle of Christianity and invite the Japanese and treat them as they

TOWARDS THE SUMMIT

THERE WAS A FESTIVE FEELING IN Victoria two years ago today, with parades and speeches and people congratulating each other. And there was a feeling of sadness, too, at thoughts of those who never again would return to the streets of this pleasant city. We were celebrating V-E Day.

The celebrations marked the end of the long, hard climb of the democracies from unpreparedness for war to fully-armed victory over the Nazi power. It was the end of a long, tortuous path: from the depths of Munich appeasement, through Dunkerque, the Battle of Britain, the North African campaign, the Italian invasion, D-Day, the crossing of the Rhine and the final capitulation of Hitler's forces. The Japanese still remained against us, but the general feeling was that the main enemy had been defeated and hostilities could not continue much longer. We had reached the top of the hill.

But had we? The San Francisco Conference was in session as Victorians marched through the streets to celebrate victory. There was optimism there, but also an awakening realization that while the shooting was practically over, there was much to be done before the main objective of world peace could be reached. We had not reached the top of the hill after all. We had surmounted a very high and almost impregnable peak, but the main summit still lay ahead.

It still lies ahead, two years later, and there is substance for sobering thought in considering the progress we have made and the path which now confronts us. No one will deny the vast areas of unrest which trouble the world on this second anniversary of Victory-in-Europe: the problem of restoring Germany to a place in the scheme of things, the sore spot of Palestine, the hundreds of thousands of displaced persons throughout Europe, the conflict in China, the points of tension in Greece and Turkey, the economic straits of Britain, the political uncertainties of France, and over all the vast potential conflict of democracy versus statism. There are many obstacles between us and the summit.

But though the hindrances are great, there is hope in the thought that our approach to them is stronger and more thorough than ever before in history. There has been none of the hang-the-Kaiser hysteria which marked the peace-making of 30 years ago. Sorrow and determination have predominated over hatred in our contemplation of the beaten foe, however repugnant he may have shown himself. The orderly courtroom processes of law have dealt, and still are dealing, with those who offended the common decencies of mankind, and evil-doers have had to answer at the bar of recognized, international justice for their deeds.

This is the lesson we have learned—the learning of which has given us a better hope of peace than the world has ever known before: that there must be an established code of humanity to apply internationally as well as individually, world courts to determine its application and world forces to ensure its observance. Already the principle has been recognized; the task of fulfillment lies ahead. Public realization and support of this concept is the shining beacon which now guides our steps to the crown of the hill. As that support lapses, so the beacon will dim; as it strengthens, so the beacon will shine more brightly, an encouragement and guide to the ultimate goal.

STILL TIGHTER BELTS

THE DISCLOSURE BY CABINET sources that an even more monotonous diet may be in prospect for the British people—with apples, oranges and a few other "brighteners" being dropped from the menu—comes simultaneously with the published opinion of Dr. Franklin Bicknell, one of England's leading dietitians, that that country is "dying of starvation." The prospect is not a happy one from any angle, and while all may not agree with Dr. Bicknell that Britain is "the worst-fed country in western Europe, including Germany," still there can be no doubt that the United Kingdom is passing through a very stringent time.

It is difficult for us at this distance to assess the impact of strict rationing on the British resident. Dr. Bicknell speaks of "pitifully thin shop girls" and "under-sized, debilitated children," but on the other hand, there are those who say that British health has been improved on the average as a result of better distribution of food, including provision of milk for school children.

It would perhaps be better for the people of our own well-fed country to refrain from arriving at a judgment on the point, beyond a general recognition that Britons are living under an austerity greater than that of wartime. A prolongation of such conditions cannot fail in the long run to have an effect on the national health and morale of a people, however great their courage and patience. The recent onslaught of adverse weather, resulting in a loss to farmers of upwards of $80,000,000, was a blow which would have downed all but the most indomitable spirits, and was well described by the National Farmers' Union as "the greatest food-production tragedy this country has ever known."

It is no easy choice that faces the economic planners of Britain; the decision whether to spend more of their precious dollar balances on food for immediate consumption, or limit such imports in favor of economic goods which will aid in the industrial battle. As Mr. Hugh Dalton, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, bluntly told the House of Commons, "We must export or perish." Under such circumstances the choice between overseas purchases for consumption and purchases for production, presents a most acute dilemma, but there are indications that the government believes British belts may be tightened still another notch.

IN THIS CITY OF HOMES

SEVERAL YEARS AGO WOMEN'S OR- ganizations of this city brought forcefully to the attention of civic authorities the deplorable housing conditions prevailing for a large number of our citizens. The dangers to health and morals were underscored at the time, and some efforts were made to improve the situation. Little could be done. Even inadequate accommodation was scarce. The exigencies of war coupled with the influx of throngs of new residents taxed all available space.

Despite the extensive building which has taken place in more recent years, the serious congestion and the occupation of premises unfit for human habitation continue. In his annual report made public yesterday, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, city health officer, made pointed reference to that fact. Said the official:

"Even where the construction is sound, the number of families occupying certain large buildings makes the number of sanitary conveniences inadequate. These conditions are accepted at the present time, but as rapidly as accommodation and materials permit, every effort will be made to ensure that all residents are living under healthful conditions with adequate sanitary conveniences."

The position taken by the city will be generally appreciated. It is not the wish of the authorities to increase hardships for those who have no opportunity of securing better homes at present. At the same time, the situation which now exists must be rectified at the earliest possible moment. The fact that the health department is alert to present needs will be a source of satisfaction to the community in general.

Nor will the action of Oak Bay, which has notified stable dwellers at the Willows to vacate, go unnoticed. There the problem seems aggravated. If, as the health officer indicates, the stalls are unsuitable for a self-respecting horse, they can scarcely be considered adequate for humans.

The official voices of the community have recorded dissatisfaction with conditions as they are. Improvement is imperative.

PUBLIC RESPONSIBILITY

A PREREQUISITE TO SUCCESS IN THE campaign to conquer cancer is public knowledge. The people must understand the necessity of securing attention for the malady before it has established itself firmly in the body. They must recognize the preventive values of regular physical examinations. They must bring an enlightened approach to the banishment of a reticence which neglects prompt treatment. When everyone follows this course, the number of deaths attributable to Canada's No. 2 killer will show a steady decline. In its incipient stages, cancer lends itself to curative treatment.

But knowledge must not stop at the recognition of safeguards the individual may take to protect himself or herself. It must extend to an understanding of the community aspects of the disease. Statistics tell us that one in every eight men, women and children is marked as a victim under present conditions. That means that scarcely a family of three generations can expect immunity. It means, too, that every dollar contributed to the present campaign is a form of insurance, in that the funds donated to the agencies fighting the disease will help to advance the cause of eventual victory over it. By giving now, the individual may be assisting himself, herself or another member of the family in the immediate future. And if donations can be supplemented by voluntary assistance to those now engaged in the local campaign, the contribution becomes just that much more valuable.

TOP-BILLING FOR CANADIANS

TO WESTERN CANADIANS IN GEN- eral and British Columbians in particular, the brief report from London noting the top-billing given to three feminine stars from this part of the world by the British capital will be a source of satisfaction. In cinemas of close proximity, Vancouver's Yvonne de Carlo is seen in the "Song of Scheherazade," and Winnipeg-born Deanna Durbin is featured in the picture "Till We Meet Again." A short distance away, Vancouver's Kaye Connor sings the lead in the musical comedy "Romany Love." Canadians have ample grounds for pride in the manner in which their daughters and sons have reached the top in various fields of endeavor. The note from London is another striking example of their excellence in one particular sphere.

Walter Lippmann

THE STASSEN INTERVIEW

STALIN UNDERSTANDS very well the difference between an interview and a negotiation. An interview for publication with any very high personage is a privilege. It can be refused. If the privilege is granted, the personage can control the terms and conditions of the interview.

The Generalissimo did just that with Mr. Stassen, allowing him to choose the topics of the interview, and to ask him a leading question on each, but not to pursue the questioning. Mr. Stassen had to remember that he was the guest, and that if Stalin chose to misunderstand his questions and to give unresponsive answers, he was in no position to conduct a cross-examination.

HAD HE BEEN IN A position to do that, had he been negotiating with Stalin as an American official instead of interviewing Stalin as a private citizen, it is quite evident that Mr. Stassen was as well equipped as has been any American for a long time to talk a language which Stalin understands. But given the circumstances of the interview, Stalin was able to talk at the crucial questions without answering them.

Mr. Stassen had asked him as an opening question whether the "two economic systems can exist together in the same modern world in harmony with each other?" Stalin replied that they do exist together, that they have existed together, and that the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. "didn't wage war against each other."

BUT STALIN, OF COURSE, knew that what Mr. Stassen was about to ask him was whether the Communist party, which rules Russia and influences and directs Communist parties elsewhere, could and would permit the non-Communist countries to live "in harmony" with the Soviet Union. This was the question which Mr. Stassen was permitted only to allude to, not to press home to a definite conclusion.

This is not an "economic" question. It is a political question. There is no doubt whatever that an exchange of goods is possible, and may be mutually profitable, no matter what are the laws of property.

BUT THAT, AS STALIN KNOWS well, and of course Mr. Stassen too, is not the problem which besets the modern world. The problem arises out of the fact that the government of Russia is in the hands of the hierarchy of the Communist party, which controls all the instruments of government, the vast military potential of Russia, and also a network of political parties in continental Europe and elsewhere.

The question is whether Stalin and his lieutenants in the Kremlin will accept a settlement which fixes the limits of the expansion of the Soviet state, and outside those limits no more power for the local Communist parties than they are able to achieve under the rules and customs of ordinary democratic politics.

STALIN WISHED TO give the impression that he desires such a settlement, but that he had some doubt whether the United States desires it. But his answers were quite unresponsive, and indeed evasive. Mr. Stassen came near asking him, but could not quite do it, why after the destruction of the two countries which really threatened the security of Russia, namely Germany and Japan, the Soviet state remains as rigidly totalitarian as it was when Russia was in mortal danger. It cannot be because Stalin regards Britain, even Mr. Churchill's Britain, as a serious threat, or that he really believes that the United States is acting on the advice of Messrs. Bullitt and Burnham and the like.

The fact is that though the constitution of 1936 is a democratic constitution, it has never been permitted to operate. Why? When Russia was threatened by Germany and Japan, she could not risk operating the constitution of 1936. But what prevents her from operating it now? Is it that the oligarchy which holds power over Russia can not retain its power if it permits the constitution of 1936 to operate?

THAT APPEARS TO BE THE real reason, and if it is, then we must ask whether Stalin was telling the whole truth, not merely a part of it, when he said that "Russia wants to co-operate." For the question then is: can a ruling oligarchy, which cannot operate its own constitution lest it be overthrown, co-operate lawfully and normally beyond its frontiers? Does not the maintenance of the dictatorship in Russia depend upon maintaining a state of tension and insecurity to justify it?

This is the dilemma which explains, it seems to me, the baffling fact that Stalin is always saying that he wants a settlement and that, with all his transcendent authority, he never produces a settlement. He does not want war. He would like economic co-operation. He would probably, if he could, renounce the world revolution if he could settle for security.

BUT SECURITY MEANS to him, not merely the security of the Russian patrimony but the security of the Communist party, and that security, since it depends upon the suppression of Russian freedom, he has been unable to reconcile with genuine peace abroad.

This dilemma will probably not be resolved by any formula which can be agreed to now in the Council of Foreign Ministers. It may be resolved eventually by events which, as we can see in France at this moment, are beginning to take a new turn.

A Watched Kettle Never Boils

An American Looks At Canada's Place

By JAMES THRASHER, from New York

A REFLECTION of Canada's new stature as an independent nation is found in Senator Vandenberg's suggestion to the Pan American Union that the Dominion be invited to join that body.

Mr. Vandenberg's suggestion recalls a statement by L. B. Pearson, Canadian Undersecretary of State for External Affairs, in a recent speech. Commenting on his country's absence from the Union, Mr. Pearson said: "The short answer is that we have never been asked."

That may sound more like a snub than is actually the case. Until the war began few Canadians had any interest in Latin America or felt themselves bound to the southern republics by any hemispheric tie. Canada's trade with Latin America was of trifling importance.

DELAYED INTEREST

Likewise Canadians' sense of their country as an independent world power was slow to develop. Until after World War I Canada was virtually a colony. Great Britain handled her foreign affairs until 1927, when the Canadian government sent its first diplomatic missions abroad. Canada's first minister to a Latin American country was not appointed until 1911.

For many years there was also opposition in the U.S. government to Canada's membership in the Pan American Union. To give Canada a place in the Union, it was reasoned, would be to give Britain a voice in the western hemisphere.

CHANGED BY WAR

The recent war, of course, changed all that. Completely shut off from her prewar European markets and almost isolated from Britain, Canada turned her eyes toward the south. She discovered Latin America and was discovered in turn. Her industry, her scientists, and her fighting men contributed largely to victory.

Defensively, too, Canada has gained new hemispheric importance. Her large uranium deposits are linked with the development of atomic energy. Opening of Arctic air routes puts her in front line of a new approach to the Americas.

CANADIAN EXAMPLE

As a democracy Canada offers an excellent example of orderly popular government. The peaceful relations of the English-speaking majority with a large minority group of different language and culture are a model of good neighborliness which other American countries might observe.

In view of all this it hardly seems possible that the Union's governing board can ignore Mr. Vandenberg's plea for "Total New World unity" in which "our continental brotherhood is complete from the Arctic Circle to Cape Horn."

It seems equally unlikely that Canada, conscious of her new role as part of the interdependent Americas in this interdependent world, would refuse an invitation.

Norway Floating Big U.S. Loan

Norway Digest

Preparations for floating a $10,000,000 Norwegian bond issue on the U.S. capital market were formalized on Tuesday, April 25 when Norwegian Ambassador Wilhelm Morgenstjerne at a special New York press conference announced filing of the registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

"It is a source of satisfaction and pride," noted Ambassador Morgenstjerne, "that within two years of the liberation of Norway we are arranging our first bond issue—the first to be floated here by a European nation occupied by the enemy."

A group of 27 underwriting firms headed by Kuhn, Loeb and Co., Harriman Ripley and Co., Lazard Freres and Co. and Smith Barney and Co., will offer the bonds on the U.S. market in denominations of $1,000 each. The bonds will be redeemable at the issuer's option at prices yet to be announced, and will be redeemable at par for the sinking fund. It is calculated that 34 per cent of the bonds will be retired through the sinking fund prior to maturity. The issue is intended to increase Norway's dollar reserves, and will be made up of 10-year 3 1/2 per cent sinking fund external loan bonds maturing on April 1, 1957. Authorization for the loan was granted through a resolution adopted by the Norwegian Storting (Parliament) on March 14, and a Royal Resolution issued March 21.

NEVER DEFAULTED Ambassador Morgenstjerne pointed to Norway's good financial record, stressing that Norway has never defaulted on its interest or amortization of its external debt even during the years of occupation. During this period, however, when Norwegian government headquarters were in London, it was impossible to make payments to security holders in countries occupied by the Nazis and there were limitations on payments to enemy interests. Net earnings on shipping and insurance on ships lost accruing to the Norwegian government during this same period amounted to an equivalent of $480,000,000 with expenses during the same period totaling $288,000,000. Approximately $80,000,000 of the latter figures represented interest and amortization payments on Norway's external debt.

The Norwegian external debt at the end of 1946 equaled $100,000,000 at official exchange rates with $60,000,000 of that amount outstanding in the U.S. Gold holdings total $91,000,000. Bank of Norway holdings in foreign balances and securities $45,000,000. Norwegian government exchange reserves $20,000,000, while $28,000,000 in similar reserves are held by Norwegian shipowners.

The Prices Situation

By C. GORDON COCKSHUTT, President, Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

SINCE THE TERMINATION of hostilities the Canadian Chamber of Commerce has continually urged the removal of controls as rapidly as possible consistent with avoidance of widespread dislocation and of unwarranted price inflation due to scarcity.

In adopting this policy, the Chamber recognized that some price increases would be inevitable upon removal of those ceilings that had not been adjusted during the control period, during which time costs of labor and materials had increased to a degree far more than offsetting any decreases in costs consequent upon higher volume.

The government also, in dropping controls and reducing subsidies, recognized that some increases would necessarily have to be made, but relied in large measure upon the business leaders to restrict price increases to cases of real necessity; in short, to examine each case on its merits and not to follow any general pattern of price increases upon removal of controls, and to defer increases wherever possible.

RESPONSIBILITIES

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce fully endorses this policy and urges its members to be guided by it in the critical period of orderly decontrol. It is a testing period during which the eyes of the nation are on business and during which private enterprise has great opportunities to demonstrate its awareness of the responsibilities that go with freedom.

That a number of price adjustments must be made because of the unbalance between cost and prices that has grown up during the control period is obvious, but the chamber urges its members and business lead-

HOLD THAT PHONE!

Ottawa Citizen
A profound social change appears likely to result from the current telephone strike in the United States. Or at least that is the impression which some of the more daring columnists in U.S. newspapers would like to give.

The thing is that with jangling telephone cut off by the strike, the U.S. male is rediscovering that a man's home is his castle—or should be. He is, in fact, positively reveling in his newfound tranquility, the lack of invasion of his privacy.

TOO LITTLE AND TOO MUCH

Ottawa Journal
The science of education has become so complex and esoteric of late that an amateur hesitates to enter the debates that seem always to rage around its ways and means and even its destination.

It has seemed to us, however, that the tendency has been in recent years to turn out students knowing a little about a lot rather than a lot about a little. By and large this is probably a good thing, though if the process of generalizing continues the little may become all too little. And a little knowledge, as someone has said, can be a dangerous thing.

TELEVISION FOR LAZY

Letter to the London Times
I went to a London cinema 10 minutes before the start of a film, bought my ticket, and waited in the foyer. I was told that I must take my seat at once. I protested that I wished to see the film from its beginning, not from its end. I was over-ridden, and marched into a half-empty auditorium. The film was written by our greatest living dramatist.

In Alexandria I looked for the cinema as I would for a theatre; drank coffee as I waited for the earlier house to come out, and took my numbered place with spectators who sat still.

An audience must be prepared to give something if it is to take anything away. Its simplest contributions are punctuality and attention. The only visual entertainment independent of its audience is television. Perhaps this medium will one day satisfy those people who are too lazy even to enjoy themselves properly, leaving the cinemas to managers who will manage and patrons who will watch actors acting forwards instead of backwards.

INTOLERABLE TYRANNY

Montreal Star
Once more the pestiferous Petrillo, the music dictator of North America, has presumed to interfere in a matter concerning music which is exclusively the business of Canadians. He has banned the proposed recording of the singing of 1,200 school students at the first International Festival of School Music. The object of the records was to provide in permanent form reproductions of blended voices and instruments to be used for teaching purposes throughout the North American continent.

Canadians are only concerned with Petrillo when he stretches out his grasping hand across the border and tries to impose his will upon the people of this Dominion in order that he may utilize them as milch cows to swell his bursting coffers. Canadians have nothing to do with such a hitherian person. He can be prevented by law from operating in the Dominion. The sooner the necessary steps are taken to this end, the better for the cause of music from Halifax to Vancouver.

ers generally in making such adjustments to restrict them to the minimum necessary to restore a reasonable relationship between costs and prices, rather than to anticipate further increases in costs which may occur. Furthermore, in those cases where a substantial increase in volume has materially improved the margin of profit, consideration should be given to reducing prices as some offset to the inevitable increases that must occur in many instances.

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce wholeheartedly endorses the policy of orderly decontrol and believes that the policy outlined above of restricting price adjustments to the minimum necessary at this time, is conducive to the best public interest and maximum employment. It believes, also, that such a policy is in the best interests of greater production and the development of industry in Canada.

Manpower Shortage Causes Britain To Modify Conscription

LONDON (AP) — Defence Minister Alexander said Wednesday government's decision to reduce training period for military conscripts from 18 months to a year was dictated by a manpower shortage.

"It was in the exercise of a balance between the needs of defence and national economy that the government decided to recommend the period should be reduced to 12 months," he told the Commons.

Though he assailed the government's decision to reduce the training period, Conservative Leader Winston Churchill announced he would continue to support the measure.

Churchill had threatened Tuesday to use every parliamentary means to delay a vote on the controversial issue until the Conservatives had time to "consider what attitude we are to take." The wartime prime minister favors the longer period of service.

Churchill won his fight to prevent a vote on the Amendment Tuesday night when Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales came out fighting over the government's conscription measure.

With members choosing sides, so much time was spent beating down amendments to allow Wales and Scotland to bow out of conscription and Northern Ireland to come in under the terms of the proposed bill that members did not discuss the bill's main provisions, which provides for extension after Jan. 1, 1948, of the provisional military conscription now in force.

AMENDMENTS VOTED DOWN

By last midnight all three amendments had been heavily defeated by the House, but Alexander's statement had to be postponed. The Welsh amendment was rejected 305 to 21 and a similar proposal by J. Carmichael, Scottish Independent Labor member, was defeated 391 to 18.

During the impassioned two-hour plea by Welsh members for exclusion of Wales and Monmouthshire from conscription, W. J. Gruffydd, Liberal member for the University of Wales, shouted: "Is the government ready to give exemption to the whole of Wales, or are they ready to bring the whole of Wales to prison?"

9 British Miners Killed By Blast In Yorkshire Pit

BARNESLEY, Yorkshire, Eng. (AP) — Nine coal miners were killed and 25 injured Wednesday in an explosion in Barnesley's biggest coal mine.

A statement by the National Coal Board and the Miners' Union said only that "an ignition occurred."

First reports blamed a short circuit in an electric line for the blast. It was the first disaster in British mines since the government took over ownership last Jan. 1.

Barnesley, a town of about 70,000, is in southern Yorkshire, about 40 miles east of Manchester.

Nine miners were killed in the same pit in February, 1942, attempting to seal off an area which had caught fire.

U.S. To Try Warship Propelled By Atoms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. navy formally announced Wednesday it is setting up a special section to try to develop atomic-powered warships. Part of a developing program which is expected to alter whole concept of naval warfare, the section will be a part of the Bureau of Ships along with two other new ones.

1. Radiological, to devise means of protecting crews from atomic explosions and their ships from radiological contamination.

2. Atomic warfare, to investigate protection of ships from atomic weapons and continue studies of the Bikini tests held last year.

NEW YORK (CP) — The New York Post said Wednesday in a newspaper story that Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith has asked the State Department in Washington to bar entry to the United States of Norman Jaques, Social Credit member of the Canadian Parliament for Wetaskiwin.

The Post said the organization had sent a letter to State Secretary Marshall describing Jaques as a notorious anti-Semite who has abused the privilege of entry into the United States by stirring up misunderstanding and tensions among racial and religious groups.

New Comet Seen

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A new comet so bright it may be seen with ordinary field glasses when it swings closest to the Earth on May 20 was reported Wednesday by the Harvard College Observatory.

Known as the "Comet Rondanina-Bester," it was discovered early this year by M. J. Bester of the Harvard Station in Bloemfontein, South Africa, and a Czechoslovakian astronomer.

Harvard astronomers said the comet was in the eastern sky near the sun and would be brightest just before sunrise May 20.

Legion Delegates To Press For Basic Pension Increase

A general increase in the basic rate of pensions, is one of the main items on the list of resolutions from this area which will be presented by the 10 Greater Victoria Canadian Legion branch representatives who will attend the provincial Legion convention opening on Saturday in Vernon.

The local delegation is composed of Robert Knight, A. J. Mayzes, W. C. Hudson, J. A. Law-Beattie, R. Seymour, J. Neary, H. Thompson, R. Parfitt, A. H. Worthington and J. Flaherty.

The convention has a busy agenda of more than 200 resolutions to deal with.

Expected to be one of the main items discussed is opposition to the over-all reduction in the peacetime armed forces. The Victoria group is primed to speak on this subject and will also propose a wider scope for entitlement of hospital treatment of veterans irrespective of the degree of disability. The Braefoot Estate houses will undoubtedly be discussed when veterans' housing problems are aired.

Public Health Costs 85c. Per Head In City

Public health costs the citizens of Victoria and Esquimalt 85 cents per capita, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, stated in his annual report. He stated, however, there had been a 33 per cent increase in reported cases of venereal disease over the preceding year.

The number of cases of mumps reported remained uniformly high throughout the year, with the peak months being March and May. A total of 619 cases of mumps were recorded.

He said it was felt the general use of immunization against whooping cough is starting to bring this serious children's disease under control.

The number of deaths from tuberculosis in 1946 was 35 per cent lower than in 1945.

There were 105 cases of chickenpox reported in the year, 77 cases of measles, 46 of scarlet fever and 76 of tuberculosis.

Only three communicable diseases resulted in deaths, with tuberculosis accounting for 76,

Venereal Disease Increases 33%

During 1946 Victoria had its lowest incidence of whooping cough in its history, with only one case, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, stated in his annual report. He stated, however, there had been a 33 per cent increase in reported cases of venereal disease over the preceding year.

The number of cases of mumps reported remained uniformly high throughout the year, with the peak months being March and May. A total of 619 cases of mumps were recorded.

He said it was felt the general use of immunization against whooping cough is starting to bring this serious children's disease under control.

The number of deaths from tuberculosis in 1946 was 35 per cent lower than in 1945.

Only three communicable diseases resulted in deaths, with tuberculosis accounting for 76, pneumonia for 39 and diphtheria for one.

During 1946 Dr. Anderson reported a total of 14,517 complete courses of inoculations or reinforcing inoculations for various communicable diseases were given. In addition he estimated that 24,000 residents of Greater Victoria received smallpox vaccination as a result of the scare from cases in Washington state.

Spring Flower Show Opens Tomorrow

Victoria's amateur and professional gardeners will compete for honors at the Crystal Garden tomorrow and Saturday.

The show, under the auspices of the Victoria Horticultural Society, will include tulips, anemones, iris wallflowers, flowering shrubs and potted plants. The junior section has classes for displays and arrangements by exhibitors under 17 years of age.

Commercial exhibits, garden books and accessories will be featured, and the local branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind will display the handicrafts of its members.

Mayor To Serve On Special Committee

Mayor Percy George has been asked by the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities to serve on the committee on municipal finance, as the representative of B.C.

The duties of the committee will be to give pre-conference study to the subject of municipal finance, and prepare a statement for submission to the conference as a basis for discussion.

It has been suggested that individual statements should be made giving a summary of relative incomes, assets and resources of municipalities and of the provincial governments, comparing prewar and postwar years.

Other members serving on the committee are Mayor J. F. Arnett, Summerside, for P.E.I.; Mayor J. E. Ahern, Halifax, for N.S.; Mayor Ray T. Forbes, Fredericton, for N.B.; Mayor Lucien Borne, Quebec, for P.Q.; Mayor S. Lawrence, Hamilton, for Ont.; Ald. C. E. Simonite, Winnipeg, for Man.; Mayor Hugh McGillivray, Regina, for Sask.; and Mayor J. C. Watson, Calgary, for Alta.

The committee is to meet in Winnipeg prior to the convention in July, Mayor George was informed, and the report it makes is to serve as a factual basis for discussion, out of which could emerge a practical and considered program for action, which could be adopted as a definite policy of the federation and pursued in the interests of its members.

A.F.L. Council Wants Air Ambulance Service

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council at a meeting Wednesday night called on the Workmen's Compensation Board to establish an air ambulance service in British Columbia.

The council passed a resolution urging the board to maintain an ambulance plane. The plane would be of value in carrying injured from isolated logging camps and other industrial projects to hospitals.

At the same time the council called on the board to appoint a full-time inspector for the Greater Victoria area, claiming that this area now with a population of more than 100,000 warranted an inspector.

Corby Moved As Jury Finds Him 'Not Guilty'

Alaric H. G. Corby, former sergeant in the Canadian army, was acquitted on a charge of theft of three postal letters, property of the Postmaster-General, Dec. 22, by an Assize Court jury, after deliberating an hour and five minutes, Wednesday afternoon.

Following Mr. Justice J. M.

Coady's charge, the jury retired at 1.38 and returned with their verdict at 2.43.

Visibly moved, Corby gripped the rails of the prisoner's dock, when the foreman announced the verdict. He made a move to go directly to Rev. K. L. Sandercock, minister of St. Matthias' Church, who had earlier appeared as a character witness and who attended throughout the trial, which began Tuesday afternoon.

Jack Rutman was counsel for Mr. Corby, while Carew Martin, K.C., was Crown prosecutor.

Seeks New Equipment After Willows Fire

In his report on the Willows Fairgrounds fire in April, Fire Chief E. G. Clayards Wednesday evening told the Oak Bay Council he considered a portable deluge set was essential equipment for the fire department.

At major fires such as the Willows, Chief Clayards said, a deluge set would have saved considerable work and time.

would be of great value. If the fire department had had one at the Willows fire, he said, the firemen would not have been subjected to the extreme heat as they were in saving the women's building.

The council passed the request to the fire committee for discretion.

It was also ordered that a letter of appreciation be drawn up to be sent to the fire department.

Homesick For Canada, Bring Parents Here

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Roissetter with their daughters, Sheila, age 16, and Pamela, 14.

Moved by the glowing reports of their daughters on "what a wonderful place Canada is," Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Roissetter packed up their belongings and with the two girls arrived in Victoria at the beginning of the week.

Sheila and Pamela made their first visit to Canada seven years ago as English evacuees, and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Cooke, Parkview Road, for five years. On returning to England two years ago, the girls were homesick for their adopted country, and persuaded their parents to return with them.

The Roissetter family left England by plane and arrived in New York traveling from there to Montreal and on across Canada. They were met in Vancouver by Mr. and Mrs. Cooke. Although they have been in the city only a few days, Mr. and Mrs. Roissetter are already beginning to settle down and are certain they will love their new home.

"One of my biggest thrills came," Mrs. Roissetter said, "when I was able to express my thanks in person to the wonderful couple who gave such splendid care to our daughters for five years."

Member Of Pioneer Family Married At St. Stephen's

A wedding of wide interest in Saanich and in the city took place at St. Stephen's Church Wednesday when vows were exchanged by Miss Lorna Grace Thomson, a member of one of the Saanich pioneer families, and Alan Percy Pugh, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Pugh of Jasper.

Lilies, tulips and iris in pink and white banking the altar and marking guests pews provided a lovely setting for the beautiful ivory pink taffeta gown worn by the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Thomson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length veil of matching ivory pink which misted from a Juliet cap over the bridal gown of original design styled with rounded neckline, cap sleeves, fitted bodice, and full skirt featuring a wide quilted band. Lily of the valley and pink rosebuds composed her shower-bouquet.

An ice-blue gown of crepe with matching Juliet cap was worn by the bride's sister, Mrs. H. J. MacDonald as matron of honor. Her bouquet was of blue iris and yellow tulips.

Wearing white organdy with floral pattern, little Carol Thomson attended her aunt-as-flower girl. She carried a colonial posy of yellow pansies and forget-me-nots.

The groom's brother, John Pugh, attended him as best man, while brother and brother-in-law of the bride, K. L. Thomson and H. J. MacDonald, were ushers.

Archdeacon W. C. Western performed the early evening ceremony. Mrs. William Garnham sang "Love's Coronation," with violin obligato by Mrs. K. L. Thomson. Mrs. J. C. Butterfield presided at the organ.

Arrangements of spring flowers decorated the home of the bride's parents at Brentwood for the reception, where Maj. J. C. MacDonald, a close friend of the family, proposed the bride's toast. Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. Pugh assisted in receiving guests. The three-tier wedding cake centered the bride's table was decorated by Mrs. R. C. Nimmo.

Before leaving for Edmonton, where they will make their home, Mr. and Mrs. Pugh are spending their honeymoon on island. For traveling, the bride chose a soft yellow suit of light wool, with small floral hat, squirrel neckpiece and accessories of cobra skin.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A welcome hand to women considering a political career has been extended by British Columbia's Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer.

"The ladies," he told the Vancouver Women's Laurier Club recently, "are doing a grand job." "Some people believe women think differently from men," he said, "but we find they have a specified knowledge to bring to government which we men don't possess."

He cited Mrs. Tillie Rolston of Vancouver and Mrs. Nancy Hodges of Victoria, B.C.'s women legislators, as "examples of the good women can do in government."

Decorated Tables Display Acclaimed By Flower Lovers

Arranged as part of the Spring Garden Festival program, the Decorated Table Display in the Empress Hotel Wednesday afternoon and early evening drew a large crowd of visitors and local flower lovers.

Resumed last year after being discontinued since 1942, the decorated table display, a popular spring event in Victoria, was started by the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club. In later years the Junior Auxiliary of the Royal Jubilee Hospital took over from the business women's club and carried on the affair.

Many entries made the work of judges, Mrs. J. S. Perry, Mrs. R. H. Edgell and Mrs. Kenneth Barr, a difficult one but final announcement of winners coincided in most instances with the popular choice.

Judged best display in the show, also winner in the class for large floral display arrangement in container on pedestal was the entry of Mrs. R. A. Webber who had used deep red and rose colored tulips, white and purple lilac, rose rhododendrons and St. Mary's broom in an unusually effective display.

Mrs. Webber also was awarded the popular vote for her table in the formal dinner class.

TULIPS AND POTTERY
Mrs. J. A. Hobday with her entry in the informal luncheon or breakfast class was judged best table display. Yellow and rust Mexican place mats were used here with Mexican pottery luncheon set, deep rust pottery mugs and flower bowl made in Victoria, and maroon and yellow tulips.

Venetian ruby glass, gold and crystal prism candelabra, tall cream candles and an antique satinware compote filled with rose shaded rhododendrons was used by Mrs. G. Robb who won first prize in the formal dinner or luncheon table class. Mrs. H. Westinghouse was awarded second prize in this display.

Breakfast or luncheon tray award went to Mrs. P. Sills with Mrs. C. Heisterman and Mrs. M. Hedley receiving special mention. Tables to be set for dessert course only saw Mrs. Peter Bell, making her initial appearance in decorated table competition, winning first prize.

Her table was covered with a Madeira embroidery and drawn work cloth and set with a Wedgwood service. Fine crystal goblets, wine glasses and decanters, crystal lustre candelabra and a flat clear glass tray with a spray of coral shaded azaleas completed the effect.

DRESDEN CHINA
Mrs. J. A. Burchett chose a linen eyelet embroidery cloth, Dresden china service, early Victorian wine glasses, goblets and decanter and a Dresden centrepiece massed with lily of the valley, anemones and stocks to win second in this class.

A picnic table, arranged by Mrs. J. Godman and Miss I. Conn for the B.C. Indian Art and Welfare Society, won second in the informal table class. Here, place mats, containers, picnic basket, fish basket and even a sports sweater made by B.C. Indians had been used to create an authentic effect.

Special mention went to Mrs. E. K. DeBeck who used a complete luncheon service made by Mr. DeBeck from beach wood. A children's party table arranged by Mrs. Hoadley Mitchell won first prize in the special occasions class. A happy effect was created with a beach scene for a centrepiece, complete with sand, pebbles, sand bucket and tiny spade. Tiny spades dressed as dolls were used as place cards.

NOVELTY TABLE

In the novelty tables where no articles could be over 25¢, Mrs. C. Larrance, who had entries in four different classes in the show, won first prize. Tin plates and glasses were painted in bright colors. A tin tray for the centre of the table, where a simple arrangement of clean, white driftwood and a spray of dogwood blossoms, added just the right touch.

White porcelain china trimmed in green and black enamel, with silver Adams tray and service and pink rhododendrons and lily of the valley won a first for Mrs. Cuthbert Holmes in the tea or coffee table class. Mrs. Leckie-Ewing won second and Mrs. A. Wurtele, with her demitasse set of blue and white china, liqueur glasses with crystal stems and blue bowls, silver coffee service and flower arrangements of coral pink lewisia, was awarded third prize.

There were 34 entries in the floral display in containers to be shown with green screens.

Mrs. P. Paskin was awarded first prize. Mrs. J. F. Morrill, recently arrived in the city from Honolulu, second prize and Miss M. Wall, third prize.

Second prize in the large floral display in containers on pedestal was awarded to Mrs. W. Trenholme, who had chosen pink and white carnations and snapdragon, and double white lilac. Mrs. Gordon Cameron with coral shaded azaleas, bronze and white tulips, sprays of copper beach and Solomon's seal, received special mention.

Prizes were presented by Miss Lena Mitchell, superintendent of nurses at the Jubilee Hospital, at close of the evening show.

Mrs. Conway Parrott and Mrs. W. B. Wilson were general conveners of the display, assisted by a committee of Mrs. Lawrence Green, Mrs. T. W. Walker, Mrs. Matthew Hedley, Mrs. R. B. Horton, Mrs. A. B. Nash and Mrs. R. A. Wootton. Mrs. G. Ronald Newell was in charge of a floral guessing contest arranged by Miss Alice Pooley.

A display of miniature gardens, created by Mrs. G. M. Lynes, created much interest throughout the afternoon and evening.

MOTHER STIFLES DAUGHTER'S CHANCES BY OVER PAMPERING AND CODDLING

Dear Miss Dix: I know a girl 22 years old who is not allowed to go anywhere without her mother or father, who has never been permitted to do the simplest household task, such as making her own bed, doing her own laundry, or cooking a meal. Through all this coddling her mother has made her so dependent on her that she cannot hold a job, because of her inability to cope with the ups and downs of ordinary, everyday life. She cries if she is corrected, is awkward and shy and doesn't know how to get along with people.

This girl's family are in very moderate circumstances and if her father, who is in poor health, should die, she would have to work, but she is altogether incapable of making her own living, although she is well-educated and intelligent. Is there any way that this poor girl can break away from her mother's apron strings and be allowed to live a normal life, instead of continuing to be a hermit?

THREE PERPLEXED FRIENDS

Answer: I do not think that there is any crime that a mother can commit against her children that is so cruel as for her to make them dependent upon her. We used to be horrified at the stories of Chinese mothers who bound their girl children's feet so tightly that they could not grow and that made of them distorted masses of flesh on which they could just huddle around. But it was a less terrible thing to do to a helpless little babe than it is for a possessive mother to cripple a child for life by keeping her in such bondage that she never has any individual life; that she is always mother's stooge and never acquires the strength to stand alone.

Garden Party—Tentative plans were discussed at the meeting of St. Matthew's Guild for their annual garden party to be held July 9, at the home of Mrs. L. Powers, Langford Lodge. Selections from "The Parish Question Box" were read by Mrs. P. N. Welch, and the need for a temporary organist was discussed. Tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Arthur Cooper, Millstream Road.

Realize $50 — Under the auspices of the Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E., a stall of home-produce and home cooking at Ganges Wharf, Salt Spring Island, realized $50. Mesdames C. E. Baker, V. C. Best and E. Adams were conveners. Donations were received from Mrs. L. Simpson and Mrs. Best.

Plan Fete—Members of the W. A. to Prince Edward Branch, Canadian Legion, met at the home of Mrs. Henry Pike, Millstream Road, recently, with Mrs. G. A. Thompson, vice-president, presiding. Plans were discussed for the garden party to be held June 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Glenn, 676 Island Highway.

Social Situations

The Situation: A hostess who has no maid must choose between a menu that calls for much last-minute preparation and a simpler menu that will permit her to spend more time with her guests.

Wrong Way: She chooses the first, figuring that food is all-important.

Right Way: She chooses the second, realizing that an unfettered hostess who has time for her guests is more appreciated than is a flustered, hurried "cook in the kitchen."

Cost Plenty To Maintain Large Family

Mrs. R. A. Richmond, 946 Yates Street, is one mother who feels justified in complaining about the rising cost of living.

The 35-year-old housewife is the mother of a family of 12 children, ranging between the age of five and 27 years, and in order to make ends meet has to be somewhat of a mathematician with her husband's earnings and a master cook to make a little go a long way.

"Believe me, it's not easy to live these days, especially if you have a large family," she said. "The rising cost of food and clothing is hard on the family budget."

Mr. Richmond said that a few years ago she experienced no difficulty in providing for her large family, but within the last 12 months the family budget was strained to the limit.

"Of course all in the family helps and are anxious to do their share," she said. "Two of my youngest boys are anxious to help that after school they act as carrier boys for the Victoria Daily Times."

She said for milk alone it cost her about a $1 a day and sometimes more, which totaled up to over $30 a month for the fluid. Children's clothing cost about $15 and shoes around $5. "Children usually wear out their clothing pretty fast," she added.

Mrs. Richmond is proud of her large family. In order of age they are as follows: Joseph 28, Ethel 27, Charles 25, Glen 22, George 20, Vera 18, Roy 16, Ruth 15, Marjorie 13, Harold 9, Edward 7 and Clinton 5.

Mrs. Richmond now gets family allowances for five of her children which amounts to about $31 a month. One daughter, Vera, and three of her sons, Glen, George and Joseph, are attending Bible Institute and hope to become either missionaries or social workers.

With regard to her large family, Mrs. Richmond said she experienced no difficulty in bringing them up. "When you have a large family, you haven't got time to spoil any of them and they soon learn to look after themselves," she said.

She added that she has experienced no health problems with any of her children and they have had very little sickness. As far as the housework, she said, they all helped out.

Mrs. Richmond said she had been remarkably healthy all her life, but now felt that she was in need of a rest and change, and hoped to accompany one of her sons on a trip to the United States.

A member of the Glad Tidings' Sunday School which boasts of the largest membership in Victoria, Mrs. Richmond hopes to win a prize for the largest family in Victoria on Mother's Day next Sunday.

"Despite living conditions today," she said, "we are able to keep going. I'm lucky to have such a good family."

Mr. Richmond, who is now in his 52nd year, is an employee at Yarrow's, but prior to his coming to Victoria was a farmer five years ago at Chisleland, Sask. Crop failures forced him to come to the West Coast, he said.

Air League Offers 7 Scholarships For Royal Roads

In an announcement that will be big news for Canada's 15,000 air cadets, Ottawa reports the Air Cadet League of Canada will sponsor seven cadet scholarships to the naval-air force college at H.M.C.S. Royal Roads.

The announcement was made by C. Douglas Taylor, league president, who said one air cadet from the Maritimes and one from each of the remaining provinces will be chosen by the league to take the two-year course.

Tuition fees and certain incidental expenses will be borne by the league. Each scholarship involves an outlay of approximately $1,000.

Candidates must be at least 16 1/2 years of age, but not over 19 1/2 on July 1, must have senior matriculation standing and be physically fit.

Plan Special Meeting On Transit Franchise

Following on final passing of the draft for the proposed new Greater Victoria transport franchise agreement, Oak Bay council will call a special meeting to consider the draft, the council decided Wednesday evening.

R. A. B. Wootton, Oak Bay representative on the Greater Victoria transportation committee, said he expected the committee would give approval to a final draft agreement at its meeting Friday.

Young Pilot Flies Cross-Country Solo In Cornell Plane

H. C. "Barney" Kent, 21-year-old son of Col. Aubrey Kent of this city, arrived at Port Alberni Airport Monday in a Cornell aircraft which he flew over the mountains from Mossbank, Sask. It was his first cross-country solo of any real distance following the obtaining of his pilot's license with the Nanaimo Flying Club, where he trained on weekends last summer at Cassidy Field.

The Cornell was bought by Les Gill of Port Alberni from the War Assets Corporation for $650 and is intended to be used as a nucleus for a flying club to be formed in that community.

Young Kent piloted the plane alone using R.C.A.F. maps for navigation. He followed highways, railroads and rivers throughout his trip. Stops were made en route at Swift Current, Lethbridge, Cranbrook, Trail, Penticton and Patricia Bay. The roughest part of the flight was from Penticton to Pat Bay. He spoke highly of the service and obliging assistance he received at all the airports.

The Victoria Flying Club, of which Barney is now a member, is making excellent progress under the direction of Chief Instructor J. D. Duncan.

Loss Of Ship With 250 Lives Mystery

RANGOON (AP)—The loss of the 1,030-ton ship, Sir Harvey Adamson, which disappeared in the Andaman Sea off the Burma coast three weeks ago with 250 persons aboard, was written off Wednesday as another "unsolved mystery of the sea."

The search for the vessel and the persons aboard was closed officially, with searchers having failed to find a single clue as to the tiny coastal vessel's fate.

Testing New Type Swing

Five-year-old Vicky Westcott, who lives on Vancouver Street, spends most of his time at the workshops at Beacon Hill nursery where such interesting items as new playground equipment are built. Here he is testing out a new type swing which is going to be put up shortly in one of the playgrounds for the very small fry. It is so constructed that the little ones can swing contentedly, hanging on securely and not going too high. Vicky comes to play every day after breakfast, stays until noon, and arrives after lunch to spend the afternoon. He has warned the men, however, that as soon as the playground activities are in full swing in the summer, he'll go there. His present ambition is to be a "parks man."

LOWDOWN FROM MOVIE JEWELER

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—We've been getting the lowdown on Hollywood jewelry from movie-town's most famous jewelry designer, Josef.

He told us Leo Durocher wears a platinum and gold wedding ring set with rubies and diamonds. It's a duplicate of the one Laraine Day wears. (And wait until the Brooklyn fans and Happy Chandler read this.)

But with all their money, Josef says movie queens are spending more these days on remodeling old jewelry than on new stuff. Connie Bennett came in the other day and had Josef convert what she said was an "old" diamond bracelet into a brooch.

DIAMOND EYES MOVE

Of all his original designs, Josef has two favorites, a gold sun-god lapel pin with diamond eyes that move, and a gold bird cage with a three-carat unset diamond bobbing around inside. His pet jewelry peeves where the ladies are concerned: "You'd think women were afraid of it the way some of them pick out little pieces. Large pieces are not in bad taste. And why will blondes wear only gold or brunettes only silver instead of realizing jewelry should complement their costume, not their coloring."

THEY'RE HAND-PAINTED

Male fashion trend: In "Suddenly It's Spring," Fred MacMurray wears a pair of hand-painted silk pajamas. How to crash Hollywood department: Cameron Mitchell was working as a $12 a week New York theatre usher. He sent Lunt and Fontanne a note reading, "If you think you can act, you should see me." They gave him an audition, hired him for their road company. A movie talent scout saw him and now, at 26, he's going places at M-G-M.

Hollywood's renaissance: Hollywood, so often linked with sin, has two full pages of church advertising in its only newspaper every Saturday.

"I heard you make a speech once," said Truman, "for Dewey."

"How'd you like it?" asked Arnold.

"Fine," laughed Truman. "If you hadn't made it, he might have won."

Warner Bros., the film studio that gave picture audiences their first taste of lavish musicals and that so recently rang the bell with "Night and Day," carries on the tradition of "42nd Street," "Yankee Doodle Dandy," and the scores of others in their latest Technicolor musical extravaganza, "The Time, The Place and the Girl," the Alex Gottlieb-produced musical festooned with luminaries from the musical and entertainment fields, starring Dennis Morgan, Jack Carson, Janis Paige and Martha Vickers, which is currently at the Atlas Theatre.

Patrons of the Royal Theatre today greeted Paramount's new comedy, "The Perfect Marriage." A Hal Wallis production done in the best Wallis tradition of excellence in every department, "The Perfect Marriage" is the perfect comedy. Loretta Young and David Niven are co-starred, the latter in his first film since the war. Appearing in their support is a top-flight cast of favorites including Eddie Albert, Charlie Ruggles, Virginia Field, Rita Johnson, Jerome Cowan and the ever-popular Zasu Pitts.

PLAZA THEATRE

Tough guy George Raft isn't just "putting on an act" when he slugs the thugs in his gangster-gambler pictures. Raft can dish out the real McCoy.

OAK BAY

Teresa Wright has the role of Fredric March's and Myrna Loy's daughter in Samuel Goldwyn's great new dramatic offering, "The Best Years of Our Lives," now at the Oak Bay Theatre. She falls in love with a young married man who has a frivolous, gold-digging wife.

Boston Braves Send Mulligan To Padres

BOSTON (AP)—General manager John J. Quinn of Boston Braves today announced south-paw pitcher Dick Mulligan had been sent on option to the San Diego Pacific Coast League club, subject to a 24-hour recall.

Mulligan was injured during the first day of spring practice and, with a dozen other pitchers, manager Billy Southworth thought he would develop much faster in constant action with San Diego than warming the Braves' bench.

Quinn also announced that Ernie White, on the Braves' roster as a pitcher-coach, had been removed from the active list and would continue as one of Southworth's assistants.

Lowest Maternal Death Rate In 1946

Victoria had the lowest maternal mortality rate during 1946 since 1941, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, stated in his annual report. There was only one maternal death associated with childbirth during the year.

The rate of natural increase, that is the difference between the number of births and deaths is the highest on record for Greater Victoria, while the infant mortality rate of 20.6 per 1,000 living births was little changed from 1945.

In causes of death, diseases of the heart and arteries continue to hold high place, causing 48 per cent of all deaths. Cancer came second, accounting for 17 per cent of deaths. However, the mortality rate for both these diseases was considerably lower than in 1945, Dr. Anderson stated.

In all, there were 1,181 deaths during the year. Among these were included 55 deaths, 11 suicide, five from automobile accidents, and 42 other violent or accidental deaths. There was one diphtheria death, three from meningitis, and seven from diarrhoea.

Desperate Stampede Edge Montreal Squad

TORONTO (CP) — The final curtain on Canadian senior hockey last season dropped on April 27 but fans today had at least one more game of this year's Allan Cup final to look forward to on Saturday night.

And the way Calgary Stampede defeated Montreal Royals 1 to 0 here last night showed that it's still too early to count out the westerners, defending the Dominion championship they won on that same April 27.

The best-of-seven series stands

3 to 2 in games in Montreal's favor, but if Stampede can put up another last-ditch stand like last night's, it's by no means certain this season's play won't extend into next week.

The Alberta squad displayed fine form as they outplayed the younger Royals and scored near the end of the second period to break the goalkeepers' battle.

Both goalies—Russ Dertell for the winners and Gerry McNeill in the Montreal cage—played fine games as they made save after save with the opposition camped on their doorsteps.

SCREENED SHOT

Bob Brownbridge settled the issue late in the second period when he beat young McNeill on a screened shot from 15 feet out after checker-board passing from Dunc Grant and Ken Hunter.

There were five minor penalties in the game, four of them to Montreal, but the winning counter came with the teams at full strength.

It was a bad game out of their systems in the opinions of the Montreal squad—a contest "poorer than our average poor game," one of them said—but there was no denying Calgary was the better team throughout most of the 60 minutes and deserved to win.

Stamps took the offence from the start and kept the Royals' defencemen and McNeill on the hop, especially late in the last period, when the westerners came close to adding to their advantage.

For the losers, Pete Morin had four good chances in the final frame to tie the count, but Dertell outguessed him on three drives, and the fourth, when the little Montrealeur couldn't get the puck off the ice, flew into the goalie's pads with Dertell sprawled in front of his cage.

SUMMARY

First Period—Scoring, none. Penalties: None.

Second Period—1, Calgary, Brownbridge (Grant, Hunter), 18:12. Penalties: Desmarais, Laforce.

Third Period—Scoring, none. Penalties: Curry, Dame, Galbraith, Riopelle.

SPORT RELATIONS between Canada and the United States specially in Olympic Games competition, are certainly not going to be strengthened by the furore over skater Barbara Ann Scott's acceptance of an automobile as a gift from admiring fans in her home city of Ottawa. It is rather strange that a representative of the country which tends to commercialize its athletes more than any other nation in the world should be the one to question Miss Scott's amateur status. Miss Scott, showing the good common sense that has marked her actions since she reached the top in her particular branch of athletic activity, when the question of her standing as regards to Olympic competition was concerned, immediately announced the car would be returned to its donors.

WHEN ONE thinks of how top ranking athletes, track and field stars, swimmers et al., are "brought along" in the United States the action of Avery Brundage in questioning Miss Scott's status is kind of tough to stomach. Remember the number of American colleges who made offers to Percy Williams following his sensational double victory in the Olympic sprints? The Vancouver boy could have really set himself up if he had been willing to move south of the border instead of electing to remain in his native city. One could understand the "beef" if Miss Scott had been underhanded about the whole thing. How easy it would have been to present the car to her mother or even "charged" the world skating champ $5 for the new machine. Such action would have made everything legal from the standpoint of her amateur standing. It might not be a bad idea for Canadian Olympic Committee authorities to do a little checking on the status of some of the so-called amateur U.S. athletes.

IT IS PLEASING to note that another British Columbia sports writer has taken up the question of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation handling hockey broadcasts. I have been engaged in a one-man campaign for airing of the Stanley Cup games in their entirety for several years. Now Ken McConnell of the Province takes a critical view of the CBC attitude. He thinks the CBC, as far as sports coverage is concerned, should stick to drama.

McCONNELL'S hair is ruffled by the failure of the corporation to carry the Allan Cup games. After prodding, he says, we got the Grey Cup (Canadian football), an oil company gave us a portion of the Stanley Cup games and we may even get the King's Plate this year; but the Allan Cup, the Canadian senior hockey championship—with cup games played since 1912—was not aired. McConnell says there is no excuse for the CBC. There was plenty of notice when the series would be played and where.

Fish Story To Top All Fish Stories

Here is a fish story with a moral! At least Jimmy MacKay, driver for Spencers, thinks so.

Yesterday being his afternoon off, MacKay with three of his friends, Walt Moir, Jimmy and Tommy Parkinson, decided to try his hand at fly fishing in Douglas's Lake. MacKay was sporting $45 worth of new, but unpaid-for gear and was anxious to try out his latest outfit, on the unsuspecting trout.

The boys had been fishing for about an hour, with little luck, when suddenly MacKay's $45 disappeared over the side of the boat. While relaxing MacKay had a strike and the fish ran away with the entire outfit.

A parley was held and the boys decided to try and hook the van, fished about an hour with no success, the fish came up to have a look and made the mistake of coming near the boat of Tommy

Torgeson Delivers For Boston Braves

Baseball market note! Boston Braves securities firmed after shaky start: Pittsburgh Pirates investments shaky after earlier optimistic outlook. Translating market page parlance into sports page lingo, the above would mean that Earl Torgeson, rookie first baseman from Seattle who cost the Braves $100,000 finally has begun to deliver after a poor getaway. On the other hand, pitchers Kirby Higbe and Hank Behrman and catcher Dixie Howell, three-fifths of the $200,000 purchase from Brooklyn, who were expected to make first division finishers of last year's seventh-place Pittsburgh club, have thus far disappointed.

In addition, the Bucs faced the prospect today of losing their great slugger, Hank Greenberg, for at least two weeks. The former American League home run king is en route to New York to have an injured elbow treated. Hank did not play last night as the Braves squeezed out a 3 to 2 decision over the Pirates when Torgeson drove out an eight-inning home run to break a 2 to 2 tie.

Behrman was charged with the defeat last night. The previous night Higbe made his Pittsburgh bow and although stinging with hits (he gave up four in seven innings) he was wild, walking nine Bostonians to lose 6 to 0. Howell, his batterymate, also had a disappointing debut. He failed to hit safely in three official times at bat and erred once in the field.

CARDS BEAT DODGERS

The nasty weather let up long enough for the St. Louis Cardinals to defeat the Dodgers 2 to 1 in a thrilling battle at Ebbets Field.

A home run by Terry Moore with one on in the seventh provided the margin of victory for Howie Pollet.

Toronto, Dick Fowler's tight pitching and a two-run homer by Hank Majeski helped Philadelphia Athletics vacate last place in favor of St. Louis Browns as the A's whipped the Browns 6 to 1 in the American League's first night game of the season.

Fowler scattered seven Brownie hits.

Marathon Road Race Set For White Rock

The White Rock May 24 celebration committee announced in a letter to Archie McKinnon today that a marathon road race will be held at White Rock on the holiday.

As this is a new venture the mainland committee is anxious to receive as many entries as possible. Valuable cups and prizes will be presented to the winners. Entry forms for any local distance runners wishing to take part in the race are available at the Y.M.C.A.

Parkinson, who hooked on to the line with his own. All was excitement now as the battle for the gear took place.

As this was going on the rod suddenly appeared alongside Walt Moir's boat and wasting no time, he grabbed it and reeled in the culprit who had caused all the trouble.

Now the moral is: Always pay for your gear before you go fishing; you may not be as lucky as Jimmy MacKay.

Esquimalt Win Third Straight; Douglas Tire Edge Brentwood

Jim Lackie's Esquimalt Meat Market players continued their winning ways in the senior A softball league last night as they made eight hits good for eight runs, to defeat Army and Navy Vets 8 to 2 in a well-attended game at Central Park.

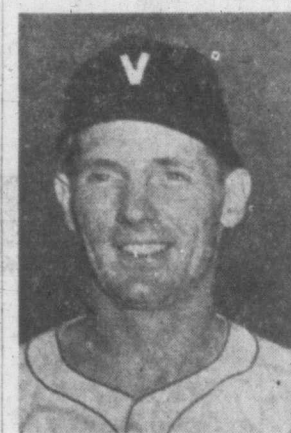

Over at Victoria West Park, Douglas Tire eked out a slim 2 to 0 victory over Brentwood Aces to take over second place in the league standings.

George Kinch, Esquimalt's southpaw hurler, pitched fourth hit ball in chalking up the win, while his teammates hit the ball hard with Bill Raferty and Ray Byers pounding out homers. Vets took a one-run lead in the last of the fifth, but Esquimalt erased that margin with a three-run outburst in the sixth. They added two more runs in each of the next two innings to go on to an easy win.

Bob Prior Pitches One-Hit Game As Eagles Blank Navy

Bob Prior, young righthander of Gar Taylor's Eagles, pitched his team to a brilliant one-hit, 11 to 0 victory over the Navy in a senior amateur baseball game last night. The victory, second of the season, for the birdmen, puts them in undisputed possession of first place.

Prior's bid for fame was ruined when Mann singled infield in the eighth inning. Temporary loss of control as he issued two walks, loaded the bases in this frame, but Prior retired the next Navy batter via the strikeout route to preserve the whitewash job. He struck out 14 sailors while passing four.

Five hits, combined with a sacrifice and a Navy error, accounted for six Eagle runs in the second inning, and with Prior moving down the opposition with his deadly slants, that easily proved enough for the ball game.

Playing manager Gar Taylor picked up three hits out of four trips to lead the hitters' Verne Evans with three for five took runner-up honors.

The next game of the series will take place at Macdonald Park on Friday with Legion Playing Navy at 8:30. On Sunday, Chemalun will play Legion here with Eagles traveling to Duncan for a pair of games with the All Stars.

Spencers Defeat Navy, Win Rennie And Taylor Trophy

The scrappy Royal Canadian Navy football team failed in their attempt to capture the last of the three cups up for competition in the Wednesday League yesterday at Macdonald Park, when they were edged 1 to 0 by Spencers in the sudden-death final for the Rennie & Taylor Cup. Spencers had previously captured the Hayward Cup.

Spencers' victory climaxed an uphill fight in the latter part of the cup series. Forced to win their final game of the series in order to gain the playoff bracket, Spencers not only did that, but in yesterday's final they defeated an eleven that had troubled them no end, especially during the last few weeks of the season.

Charlie Musgrave, right winger of the department store squad, punched home the only counter of the match about five minutes from half time, when he took a pass from Johnny Munro and beat Murray in the net easily. Spencers had the best of the

A's Can Share First Place With Victory

Victoria Athletics get their big chance to take command in the Western International League baseball campaign with the opening of a four-game series tonight at Athletic Park against first-place Spokane Indians. Winding up their three-game series with Wenatchee Chiefs last night by registering a 12 to 5 decision, for a series edge of two games to one, the A's moved into a virtual second-place tie with Vancouver Capilanos, one game back of Spokane.

Spokane and Vancouver were rained out last night. Victory over Spokane tonight would move the Athletics into a virtual tie for first position.

Task of stopping the Indians in the first game has been turned over to Len Kasparovitch, sturdy right-hander recently sent to the Athletics by San Francisco Seals of the Coast League. Master of control, the Hawaiian-born hurler throws an assortment of stuff and is expected to provide the visitors with plenty of trouble.

Walks, which have proven a headache to the Athletics in several of their games this season, were a boon in the wind-up engagement with Wenatchee. When the Chiefs' starting moundman, Tom Rose, handed out 15 free passes the Athletics took advantage of the wildness. After Rose had escaped trouble in the first when he loaded the bases on three walks the A's hit the score column in the second, pitcher Max Hittle's triple to right accounting for a pair and Jack Harshman's line double sending the third across.

BASE-CLEARING TRIPLE

Catcher Vic Mastro's booming triple to left field with the bases loaded, off relief hurler Sutherland, featured the A's five-run uprising in the fifth. Home runs by Harshman and Pat Patterson accounted for Victoria's final three runs in the sixth.

Hittle, making his third start for the Athletics, looked an improved pitcher, when he was forced to work. The right-hander showed a nice curve ball and a tricky fast ball. He allowed seven hits, struck out seven and walked five.

Wenatchee scored two runs in the third on singles by Warner and Andrade combined with a walk and two infield outs and wound up their scoring with single runs in the fourth, fifth and seventh. Bob Frost lifted the ball out of the park for the visitors' tally in the seventh.

Athletics only picked up seven hits with Harshman and Hittle splitting four of them.

PESUT SUSPENDED

Wenatchee was further weakened last night with catcher Nick Pesut out of the game through a suspension handed down by league president Robert Abel as a climax to Monday night's incident. Third baseman Hal Rhyne was badly ailed in the first inning on a spike play at the bag, and forced to get medical attention.

In other W.I.L. games last night Bremerton blanked Salem 4 to 0 behind Hub Kittle's one-hit pitching, and Tacoma nudged Yakima 4 to 3 in 10 innings. Lou Kubiak's single in the second in-

SIERRA LEONE EARNED NAMED OF "WHITE MAN'S GRAVE"

Did you ever hear of a country called "Mountain of the Lion"? If you looked at a map of Africa, you would fail to find the name of such a country, but you might see "Sierra Leone," covering a small space along the western coast.

The name "Sierra Leone" came from the Portuguese language, and it means "Mountain of the Lion." It is said to have been given to the place because thunder heard over the mountain made the Portuguese think about the roaring of a lion.

Sierra Leone is north of the Republic of Liberia. It is today a British colony, a part of British West Africa.

Sierra Leone long ago earned the name of "White Man's Grave." This came about because white men who went there were likely to fall sick with fever or other disease, bringing death in a year or two. In the space of 22 years there were 17 British governors of the colony. Many of these governors died, and others gave up their work to go home after getting a taste of the climate.

About 2,000,000 persons live in Sierra Leone today, but most of them are Negroes. Less than one person in a thousand inhabitants is a member of the white race.

The climate of Sierra Leone is still as bad as it was, but good public health work has been done. Thanks to this work, a white man who goes there now has a better chance to live than in the past century.

At this time of the year, Sierra Leone is starting a rainy season which will last until December. If this is an average year, enough rain will fall before Christmas to make a lake covering the colony to a depth of 11 or 12 feet. Happily most of the rain water will drain into rivers which empty in the ocean.

In former times Sierra Leone was a center for indigo, a dye which can be obtained from certain plants. In those days people in a town kept indigo dye pots in a central place, under the care of women appointed for the duty. During the present century, synthetic indigo has become so cheap that natural indigo has lost its old place on the world's markets.

Says Politicians 'Two-Faced' On School Religion Policy

Politicians were described by Rev. J. B. Skeene, D.D., Vancouver Central Church, at the 65th annual meeting of the synod of the Presbyterian Church at St. Andrew's Church today as "two-faced" with regard to the teaching of religion in provincial high schools.

"Politicians are making it as difficult as they can to provide religious education in schools," he said, "and on the outside pretend they are in favor of religious teaching."

The subject came up for discussion at the synod after Rev. Harry Lennox of Point Grey, Vancouver, convener of Sunday schools and Young People's Societies, called for the adoption of a resolution which would request the provincial government to make provisions in the Education Act for the teaching of religion during school hours.

Under the present set-up, religious teaching in high schools is optional, and must be taught outside school hours.

Members felt that this was inadequate and impractical, and that religion should be taught during school hours to students who were interested in the subject.

The synod decided to appoint a committee which would approach other denominations with regard to the teaching of religion in schools before approaching the provincial government for a change in the Educational Act.

Opposing the resolution was E. F. Mathews, a retired school inspector, who argued that schools should be non-sectarian as they had been in the past.

Rev. John McTurk of Kamloops said that he had met a Roman Catholic bishop who was in favor of religion being taught in schools, but had found the Orange Lodge opposing the scheme.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean of St. Andrew's Church, said he was completely in favor of teaching the bible during school hours, but said the Educational Act would have to be changed if the plan were put into practice.

"We can't do anything under present regulations," he said. "The teaching of religious subjects after school has proved impractical."

Some of the members thought that the subject should be left entirely to the church and Sunday schools.

Oak Bay Refuses Drill Team Grant; No Appropriation

Oak Bay Council Wednesday evening rejected an appeal by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce for a grant towards expenses involved in sending the Victoria Girls' Drill Corps to the Portland Rose Festival in June.

In a letter to the council, J. E. Nelly, chairman of the tourist group drill team committee, said, "On the six occasions this corps has gone to the U.S. the City of Victoria has generously made a grant towards expenses involved, but in view of the increase in cost of transportation and hotel rates, we are making an appeal to our adjacent municipalities to kindly give consideration towards making a grant to this organization which has undoubtedly been of great public value to Greater Victoria."

"There is no appropriation for this," said R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, in a memorandum to the council. "There is also doubt whether a grant to the organization would be legal. Under Section 172 we may grant money for 'diffusing information respecting the advantages of the municipality' but a trip by a drill team hardly answers that requirement. We may, however, grant money to any Chamber of Commerce; so far we have only used that power to cover a $50 annual subscription. There is also the question of precedent; Oak Bay also has a drill team."

$57,000 Building For Blackball Ferry

A building permit has been issued to Blackball Ferry to build a $57,000 office building at 808 Wharf Street, which will be used as a terminal for the Victoria Dock Company.

Birley, Wade and Stockhill are the architects, and Bennett and White are the contractors. The building will be on a concrete foundation and the exterior walls will be asbestosite.

Other permits have been issued to E. S. Jolly to build a five-room house at 117 Maddock Street, $4,500; and to T. C. Douglas to build a four-room house at 1455 Thurlow Road, $6,000.

California Newsmen Pay Visit To City

Visitors to Victoria today were members of the California Press Association and their wives who arrived here from a trip up-Island.

The party spent several hours visiting beauty spots in the city before taking the afternoon boat for Seattle on their trip home.

During the week, the publishers and their wives went to various up-Island points of interest, including Forbidden Plateau, Eagle Crest, Port Alberni, Nanaimo and Qualicum Beach. They also paid a short visit to Vancouver, taking the boat over from Nanaimo Tuesday and returning to Vancouver Island the same evening.

Escaping the photographic, even in their moments of starker reality.

Nor have they failed to appreciate and define the grim beauty of some aspects of the war. For instance, there is the luminous, breathless beauty of "Haida Gets Her First," by Cmdr. Harold Beament, V.D., and "Canadian Armor Passing Through Ortona," by Maj. C. F. Comfort. The latter is a picture at which one looks long in sheer wonder, marveling at the texture, the delicacy of color contrasted with the ruggedness of subject, the brilliant atmosphere, the sense of desolation.

Surrealist technique creates the nightmare horror of death and destruction as none other could, in Maj. W. A. Ogilvie's "Dead City—Caen, 1944" and "Escape Route, Trun Chambois Area." These two pictures are powerful, with a searching, bitter cruelty that is inescapable. Maj. Ogilvie was among many of the artists who were decorated, receiving the M.B.E. in recognition of his services as a war artist.

War Paintings Exhibited Here Make Peace Appeal

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON
After all the words have been written by war correspondents and spoken by the radio commentators, it has remained for Canadian war artists to present the most vivid and unforgettable record of World War II.

Unfortunately, paintings generally do not reach so wide a public as the printed or broadcast word, therefore, the exhibition now on view at the Yates Street Little Centre may be looked upon as one of the most important of the year. This is a selection of 50 canvases, a loan exhibition, which is part of the permanent collection of Canadian war art at the National Gallery, Ottawa. Taken from the large exhibition opened early this spring by the Governor-General, the paintings have been on a tour of Canada, concluding in Victoria, where they will show until May 18. These pictures have also been shown in Paris, London, Rome and Brussels.

Of particular local interest are four canvases by three Victoria men: Pte. Lieut. P. G. Cowley-Brown, who in "Air to Ground," has captured the impression of earth rushing past beneath the wings of a plane at furious speed; Capt. E. J. Hughes with "Patrol Kiska," and Lt. Cmdr. Anthony Law, D.S.C., of H.M.C.S. Uganda, who is represented twice with remarkable feeling and brush technique in "Decommissioning, Rainy Weather," and "Painting Ship's Bottom."

It should not be thought, from any of the foregoing, that the pictures are of interest and value, principally from the documentary viewpoint. In almost every instance, they are to be considered of major importance as works of art. While never failing in their job of faithfully portraying incidents and events of the conflict, these artists have rendered them with truth, insight and imagination.

Garden Editor Praises Flowers Of Victoria

Private gardens in Victoria were praised by Mrs. W. Saunders, garden editor of Canadian Homes and Gardens, who is among the many visitors attending the annual Spring Garden Festival here.

Mrs. Saunders, who is preparing a feature on gardens for her magazine, said she was delighted with the variety of plants grown in Victoria, and was particularly struck by the luxuriant growth and the striking color of local blooms.

She said the gardens were interesting from both the layout and the horticultural point of view. "There is a sense of fitness about the naturalistic settings, backed by the native oaks and the rocks clothed with natural rock plants," she added.

Today visitors inspected the Gordon Head and Uplands gardens of K. E. Christiansen, 3945 Saanich Road, Mrs. S. L. McMullen, "Strangewood," Tyndall Avenue, G. Gordon Robison, 2147 Ferndale Road, Paul Arsen, Arbutus Road, J. Ryan, "Glenora," 2660 Lansdowne Road, K. C. Drury, "Sedum," 525 Island Road, Dr. E. H. Elkington, 572 Island Road, Mrs. C. S. Wilkie, 988 Newport Avenue, E. Little, 1513 Prospect Place, Mrs. C. F. Armstrong, 1630 York Place, and Mrs. A. T. Goward, 1605 York Place.

Selfridge introduced many American merchandising methods to London.

He began his career at the age of 15 with the firm that was to become Marshall Field's. He obtained an interest in the business and at 39 had accumulated a fortune so that he could retire in 1903 and pursue his hobbies, traveling, collecting art objects and reading.

In 1909, however, he established the first department store in Europe—Selfridge's on Oxford Street, London—and soon became known as "the Marshall Field of England."

His death came after a short illness of bronchial pneumonia, at his home in Putney, fashionable residential district of southwest London.

Selfridge once remarked that he attained business success by a bare quarter of an inch. It was his mother's ambition—and his own at the time—that he go to the United States Naval Academy. A naval doctor rejected him because he was a quarter of an inch under the minimum regulation height.

In 1890 he married Rose Buckingham of Chicago. She died in 1918.

Cecil T. Reeve, charged with attempting to procure, between the dates of Feb. 25 and 29 at Victoria, appeared in the Assize Court today, as the case began before Mr. Justice J. M. Coady.

A letter received here by the National Employment Service office from Hangkoo, China, bears $7,220 worth of postage. The letter is from a young man in that city who is seeking employment here. Another letter received by 11-year-old Ralph Stratford has $4,400 worth of stamps on it. Both letters were sent airmail.

In an effort to bring teachers' pensions up to a living standard, a meeting will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Canadian Vocational Centre, 614 Cormorant Street. All of the 90 teachers of the Greater Victoria area now on pension are being invited to attend. A report of the meeting, held recently in Vancouver on pensions in connection with the teachers' annual convention will be discussed.

Frederick L. Yates was sentenced to 30 days in jail by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court when he appeared for sentence today after being found guilty Wednesday of theft of a coat valued at $22.50, owned by Daisey Woods. In view of good character witnesses and a clean record, another man was given a suspended sentence on a charge of attempting to steal property from a room in Prince Robert House, to which he pleaded guilty. He had a six-year navy service record and had just been discharged, the court learned.

Among the smaller fines imposed to day in city police court was a $10 levy against a motorist who had failed to see a fire hose in use stretched across the street and had run over it during the hours of darkness on May 1. He said he did not see the hose because it was dark and the street was covered with running water. Police witnesses and an independent witness stated the man had run over a hose in operation and Magistrate H. C. Hall pointed out the accused had violated the by-law, and that he must find him guilty as charged.

New Soapless VEL
Marvelous For Dishes

by Frances Thompson noted homemaking authority

body likes doing dishes, but there is now a new product called VEL that certainly makes the inevitable job a whole lot easier and quicker.

UNLIKE SOAP
VEL is not soap—it's a soapless discovery. Its quick-forming foamy suds don't last—they're not meant to. But the CLEAR water remaining in dishpan or sink is the very thing which makes glasses and china sparkle and so quickly cleans the porridge pot and roasting pan... the two bugaboos of dishwashing. What is more, dishes washed in VEL and given a quick rinse will dry themselves without streaking. It's amazing how VEL cuts the grease and leaves little if any scum on the sides of your sink. If necessary a tiny sprinkling of dry VEL on the dishcloth, then a quick rub-around, will make the sink or dishpan gleam. And, incidentally, VEL is very kind to the hands.

VERY LITTLE VEL NEEDED
Frankly, at first we were skeptical of VEL for we missed the heavy dishpan suds produced by soap. In error, we added more, but now know that a very little VEL goes a long way... and that VEL keeps on cleaning long after the suds dissolve. A teaspoonful or two of VEL is usually plenty in a dishpanful of water. Add a little more for larger sinks or very greasy pans.

Engineers Name L. F. Grant As Head

TORONTO (CP) — Lt.-Col. L. F. Grant of Kingston, Ont., associate professor of engineering in the faculty of applied science at Queen's University, today was elected president of the Engineering Institute of Canada. He succeeds J. B. Hayes of Halifax.

Other officers elected today include S. G. Coultis, Calgary, vice-president.

Councillors include T. V. Berry, Vancouver; F. R. Burfield, Edmonton; N. B. Hutcheson, Saskatoon; S. T. McCavour, Fort William, and S. C. Montgomery, Trill, B.C.

New Plan Adopted By Saanich To Have Firehall Built

Saanich Council at its special meeting to pass the estimates Wednesday night, decided not to give the job of constructing the new firehall to the only bidder, whose tender was read at last week's meeting.

Councillor George Rudd suggested a plan whereby a qualified private individual, John Little, working at $1.50 an hour, a carpenter working at $1.25 an hour, and a laborer, could do the job "at least $2,000 cheaper than the firm which bid." The councillor noted that the bid was for $12,000, "and plus increased prices for materials," which could mean 15 per cent more.

While some members of the council were at first in favor of shelving the whole matter until times got better for construction work, others argued that nothing would be saved by waiting and that there was the possibility of even higher costs for materials when it was finally decided to go ahead with the project. There was no dissenting voice when the Rudd plan was put to a vote.

It was left up to the assessor, building inspector and chairman of the building committee to strike a contract for the plan and to refer it to the reeve and council for perusal.

It appeared to be the view of some members of the council that this would not only be a cheaper way of having the firehall built, but also a quicker way, especially in these days when the contracting firms were heavily engaged.

Reeve E. C. Warren Wants Contributory B.C. Health Scheme

"That is one thing we must really push for at the next convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities—contributory B.C. health and hospitalization insurance," declared Reeve E. C. Warren at the meeting of Saanich Council last night when it was pointed out that Saanich's contribution to the Royal Jubilee Hospital in 1947 was $10,000.

"The system of demanding from the taxpayer so much money for the hospital grant is wrong. The taxpayer under this system is having to dig down in his pocket heavily and is being penalized for something that should become a charge to all on a contributory basis," said the reeve.

Saanich Tax Rate Set At 37 Mills, 6-Mill Increase Over Last Year

The 1947 mill rate for Saanich Municipality was set at 37 mills, an increase of six over last year, at a special meeting of the council held Wednesday night when the new estimates were given final reading and adopted.

At the conclusion of the lengthy session to put the final touches on one of the year's heaviest pieces of work, Reeve E. C. Warren noted that this was the first time in 14 years the council has felt the people of Saanich are in position to stand higher taxes to pay for increased services, such as fire and police and to take care of costs in increased wages and shorter work weeks involving staff additions.

Councillor George Rudd commented on the harmonious spirit that has been the order among the ward representatives in the entire business of setting up the new estimates. "I think tonight's business is a credit to us all," he said.

NEED TWO MILL RATES
Municipal Clerk John Tribe was of the opinion that Saanich was the only municipality in the province, with one exception, which had to set two mill rates, due to different levies required for school purposes.

In School District No. 63, the rural wards of five, six and a small portion of four the new rate was set at 12.1 mills, while in the Greater-Victoria-School District No. 61, embracing the remainder of Saanich, the rate was set at 14.5 mills. The general purposes mill rate for the whole of Saanich was fixed, at 22.7 mills, making the rates in the two school districts read: District 61, 37 mills, and District 63, 34.8 mills. The 1947 taxable assessment was based on 55 per cent of improvements.

The six-mill increase was caused by the fire department, including the new fire hall; taking three mills; public works, involving two mills, and increased salaries and hours; one mill, Councillor Len Hobbs said.

MUST KEEP WITHIN BUDGET—REEVE
In dealing with the 1947 expenditures, the reeve pointedly warned the council: "We absolutely must keep within our budget—and I am going to instruct the comptroller that anyone who tries to go over the estimates for his ward is to be cut off."

The municipality's receipts and expenditures for 1947 were estimated to aggregate $816,669. Receipts in 1946 totaled $783,707, and expenditures totaled $773,737.

The council figures on the current year expenses are up by $117,712 over last year's increased expense roll, which was estimated at $401,138.

While $74,500 was figured for last year's increased expenditures for roads, bridges and street lighting, the new estimate is $98,700, which means $24,200 more.

Other increased expenses figured on are: Engineering, $2,500; fire department, $11,936; fire department (new hall), $35,000; social assistance, $1,975; social assistance supervision, $2,165; poor, aged and destitute, $500; special grants, $1,550; police department, $9,107; office administration, $3,000; election expenses, $300; assessing, $1,200; plumbing inspection, $500; wiring inspection, $2,800; new maps, $500; accounts payable, $9,137; Greater Victoria transportation, $1,448; grant, Jubilee Hospital, $3,000; council indemnities, $650, and school expenditures, $4,244.

However, by the time less reduced expenditures of $7,024 and less estimated net increased receipts of $25,309 are taken out, it will leave a net increase in expenditures for 1947 of $85,379.

Reduced expenses are expected to be $7,024 from the health department, T.B. units, advertising and administration equipment.

Increased receipts are forecast to be $36,676—and $14,606 of that is expected from motor licenses and $5,000 from cash-and-tax-sale lands—but with $11,367 estimated increase is reduced to $25,309.

NO FINES' ESTIMATE
It is noted that Saanich did not follow the city of Victoria in putting an estimate in for court fines for the year. The space was left blank.

In the $3,990 to be given in special grants this year is $800 to the Saanich Recreation Council for upkeep and supervision of playgrounds and $1,100 to the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee. The Greater Victoria 24th of May Celebrations Association $500 was granted, $55 more than that to the Children's Aid Society. There were 17 other grants made.

Councillor Thomas Alexander, who said he was being literally "raked over the coals" by his Ward 1 constituents, because promises to have a road completed into certain property had not been carried out was voted $300 to have this done.

COUNCIL'S FEES RAISED
Councillor Leslie Passmore was the only dissenting voice in matter of increased indemnities for the reeve and council. Passed was the motion the reeve's fee be jumped from $900 a year to $1,200 and the councillors' fees from $250 to $300.

Councillor Passmore wasn't in favor of it in view of the increased tax burden the taxpayers had been shouldered with. He said he would favor it after informing the taxpayers at election time that more money was wanted.

The road appropriation for each ward was settled at $12,000 each—$2,000 more than last year and $10,500 for general work by the works' department throughout Saanich. Reeve Warren appealed to members to have the latter used chiefly on improving intermunicipal roads.

All members of the council, Councillor Hobbs leading off on the subject, favored handing any surplus "works" department money they could afford from appropriations to the wards which required road maintenance the most.

MORE PAY, LESS HOURS
Special mention was made of increase in salaries due to a new agreement with the Employees' Association effective April this year. This entailed a $2,850 extra cost for office staff, $2,265 to works' department employees and $1,400 to casual laborers in that department, $1,883 in the police department, which included hiring two new men required by shorter hours of work, and $2,125 to the works department.

Police hours have been reduced from 48 to 44 hours a week, works department men hours of work cut from 44 to 40, and office staff hours of work from 38 to 35.

"On our present payroll, this reduction in working hours would represent $12,000 for the nine months from April 1 to Dec. 31, 1947," it was reported.

Teachers Honor Former Registrar

Greater Victoria Teachers' Association at a dinner meeting Wednesday honored T. W. Hall, former registrar of the Department of Education.

B. C. Gillie, past president of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, presented a traveling bag to Mr. Hall on behalf of the membership of the federation throughout the province. In making the presentation, Mr. Gillie said the former registrar had made great contributions to the progress of education in the province and described him as "a friend of teachers."

Mr. Hall in reply, said the teaching profession was a potent force in fostering the upward curve of human progress.

The girls' choir of Oak Bay High School, under the leadership of George Bower, and Mrs. G. Downes, monologist, provided the entertainment.

Oak Bay To Evict Persons Living At Willows Stables

Following a report on sanitary conditions of stables at the Willows Fairgrounds, Oak Bay Council Wednesday evening ordered action taken to evict persons living in them.

Dr. W. Walker, medical health officer, who had investigated conditions at the Willows said: "If human beings were found living anywhere else in the municipality, such quarters would be condemned as unfit for human habitation immediately."

On his inspection, accompanied by T. Watt, building inspector, the doctor said he had found the people still there on April 23, despite promises to Mr. Watt a month ago that they would move.

The stables cleansing by-law was being violated, and the building by-law requiring concrete floors and sewer connection, which were non-existent, was not complied with, Dr. Walker said.

"In regard to human beings living in these stables," he continued "while it is customary for grooms to occupy quarters where horses are stabled in many parts of the world, and to live under the same roof as the horses, it is certainly not customary for horses to occupy such wretched quarters as those which exist at the Willows, and no one who really cared for the well-being of a horse would wish to have an animal stabled in such quarters, where light and ventilation are admitted only through cracks in woodwork and open doors."

"Moreover, groom quarters are not usually dilapidated horse stables, but are specially constructed for human habitation with adequate ventilation and windows, though they may be under the same roof as the horse stables," said Dr. Walker.

Missionary Says Political Problems To Remain In India

Political problems would continue in India regardless of whether or not Great Britain remained in control, according to Rev. Joseph Muchan, a missionary of the Presbyterian Church in Jhansi, India, who spoke at an open meeting of the 56th annual synod of British Columbia at St. Andrew's Church Wednesday.

Mr. Muchan stressed the need for missionaries to serve a population estimated over 400,000,000, and disclosed there was a movement under way which aimed at educating the masses, 87 per cent of whom were illiterate.

At the meeting Mayor Percy E. George welcomed members to Victoria, while the Rev. G. R. Easter, representing the Ministerial Association, paid his respects.

The shortage of clergy for activities in Canada and abroad was stressed by Rev. J. L. W. McLean, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, who appealed for young men to take up missionary work for service in this country and abroad.

The use of visual education by slides and motion pictures, as well as that of the radio, for church congregations, was advocated by the minister. He also reminded the meeting that the stipend for ordained missionaries was fixed at an annual rate of $1,800, and urged the continued support of the Peace-Thank Offering so that the $3,000,000 objective would be reached.

Other speakers included Rev. J. A. Munro, western superintendent of missions, who spoke on the shortage of ministers in British Columbia.

Canadians' Data On R.A.F. Service Is Being Sought Here

Details of any action or event personally experienced or witnessed during the war by Canadians who served in the Royal Air Force is sought by the United Kingdom Air Ministry to aid in the promulgation of a preliminary history of the air part of World War II.

The writers, Hilary St. G. Saunders and Denis Richards are to be the co-authors of the preliminary history. Saunders is the anonymous author of such wartime best-sellers as "Battle of Britain" and "Combined Operations." Local men who can provide them with experience in writing which strongly impressed them as typical of the spirit of the service or the conditions and atmosphere in which operations were conducted, will be appreciated.

Rupert Street Boulevard Trees In Full Foliage

With the coming of heavy foliage on the large horse chestnut trees on Rupert Street, the thinning of the trees is barely noticeable. Last winter half the huge trees were taken out by the parks department, causing a number of people to worry about the despoiling of the streets, and many were not convinced that the fine appearance of the street would remain. However, now given more room to spread out, the remaining trees have perfected the picture.

that will combine accuracy and impartiality with wide appeal. It is hoped to secure a great deal more information to work with other than the official records. Ex-airmen should send all communications to Head of the Air History Branch Air Ministry, Whitehall, London.

Water Main Program Will Mean More Men Needed By Oak Bay

Commencement of Oak Bay's large water main extension program will mean an increase in the number of men required for the works department's outdoor staff, A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal engineer, reported to the council Wednesday evening.

The outside staff is now made up of 65 men, he said.

Since Feb. 19 this year, Mr. Musgrave reported, local improvement work had been confined largely to sewer construction in the Hudson's Bay subdivision, paving on Nottingham from Thompson to Dewdney and preparing sidewalks for final cap on Pacific, Dufferin and Musgrave.

The 12-inch main on Lansdowne Road has been completed as far as the last house now under construction.

Work to be done in the near future includes complete curbs and paving on Mayhew and Nottingham; complete sidewalks on Dufferin, Musgrave and Pacific; complete installation of sewer, storm water and water mains in the Hudson's Bay subdivision on Westdowne Road, and when this is done, work on paying, curbs and walks on Central Avenue.

Some contract work might also be done, Mr. Musgrave said. The department will proceed with extension of the six-inch main into the Uplands on Beach Drive and the engineer hopes to start laying 12-inch pipe down Hampshire to Beach Drive in July.

Mr. Musgrave also reported on purchase of additional equipment by his department.

Four Fishing Derbys Planned At Mill Bay

Visitors may become members of the newly-formed Malahat Fish and Game Association when holidaying at any of the lovely resort spots along the Malahat and Mill Bay area. The headquarters and weighing-in station is at the Mill Bay tourist resort, now owned by C. B. Hutchinson, and formerly known as Mill Bay Inn Cabins. Mr. Hutchinson has erected a splendid fishing pier 220 feet long, where derby members may dock. Derbys will be run four times, in July, August, September and October. Two good rowboats have been put up as prizes for each derby.

EXTRA MINERALS, VITAMINS FROM LIBBY'S BABY FOODS

Libby's Double Process, Straining Plus Homogenization, Aids Infant Digestion, Increases Available Nourishment

Libby's are the only makers of Baby Foods who take the extra precaution of Homogenizing, as well as straining, fruits and vegetables. Homogenization breaks up coarse fibres at least ten times finer than straining alone can do, and it explodes food cells. This not only prevents irritation from rough particles, but the burden of breaking-up food cells is lifted from baby's immature digestive juices which can immediately begin assimilating exposed nourishment.

This gives Libby's Baby Foods two definite advantages over foods which are only strained; they are extra easy to digest and baby gets full benefit of all the minerals and vitamins in his food.

FREE BOOKLET on Infant Feeding
If you wish to learn more about Homogenized Baby Foods, send your name and address to Libby's, Chatham, Ontario, and you will receive a free copy of the booklet, "Healthful Feeding for Your Baby".

ONLY Libby's BABY FOODS ARE BOTH STRAINED AND HOMOGENIZED

Airmen Laud Sword SOS Rocket Search System

"This search was carried out to stimulate a real search in all respects and it is felt that under normal conditions a lost hunter using this means of signaling could be spotted from the air with little difficulty," writes Sqdn. Ldr. M. S. Strange, R.C. A.F. senior administration officer at Pat Bay, in an official report to Gordon Sword covering the airforce participation in the demonstration last week to test the effectiveness of the Sword search scheme involving an emergency rocket and plane.

First rocket, Sqdn. Ldr. Strange reported was sighted at 9.24 at night "and the position was plotted on our topographical map to be 482630 N (latitude) 1232945 W (longitude), which is a position about one mile south of the southern tip of Finlayson Arm." (The rocket was fired from the near vicinity of the Goldstream Park tearooms—the plotting of the position being accurate.)

"Second rocket observed in the same position while the aircraft was flying two miles north-west doing a slow turn to port... and the third rocket was also plotted to be in the same area. This rocket was sighted at a distance of five miles while aircraft was crossing Finlayson Arm from east to west," the Pat Bay officer said.

PLANE 3,000 FEET UP

He noted that the aircraft maintained a steady height of 3,000 feet above sea level and an airspeed of 140 m.p.h. Broken clouds and slight rain covered the hills to the west and although the weather was gusty and squally at this height the visibility was excellent in the particular area where the rocket was sighted.

"The only comment that could be offered is that the rocket should be fired about 30 seconds sooner than the first one that was fired on the test if the aircraft is approaching the lost hunter.

"If the aircraft has already passed overhead before the hunter has fired the rocket he should hold his fire until the aircraft has turned onto the next leg of its search when the rocket will be visible on either side of the plane," Sqdn. Ldr. Strange wrote.

He emphasizes that the lost or injured person should not be in a hurry to fire the rocket thinking that he has only the one chance.

"On a properly-conducted air search the plane will be in a position to see the rocket for a period of at least 10 minutes while it is flying different legs of the search area," he said. (The area of search in this case was 10 square miles).

LAUDS SEARCH SYSTEM

The air station administration officer points out the comments of his department have been offered with a view to assist you in perfecting instructions "and in conclusion it is with pleasure that this report can say that the test was a success from the standpoint of the searching aircraft and under normal distances from base the plane could radio the lost hunter's position to the tower, who would in turn notify all concerned of this position within approximately five minutes' time of the firing of the rocket."

He offers any assistance desired in the scheme by the air station within the regulations laid down.

Sword in answering explains the delay in the first firing as follows:

"In firing the rocket the injured hunter was handicapped by local conditions in the matter of exact practical time for releasing the signal. This was due to a lighting plant in operation close by as well as noise from Goldstream River within a few feet.

"Also dense foliage overhead did not allow a view of the plane until after release of the rocket. These factors contributed to the slight late timing on the part of the injured man. The local conditions met by the hunter placed a severe test on the practical use of the rocket device. He fired from a prone position with his leg in splints. His shots went with accurate effect through the small opening of trees 170 feet above."

The inventor spoke of the fine co-operation extended by the Patricia Bay commanding officer and personnel.

Salveson Pitches 20-Inning Victory For Portland Club

Right hander Jack Salveson hurled a 20-inning Coast League marathon and a 1 to 0 shutout for Portland here last night against Sacramento, allowing the Senators only eight hits until the Beaver batsmen brought in their lone run in the twentieth.

The 33-year-old Portland pitcher turned in a sparkling mound performance with the Senators' Guy Fletcher for 13 innings and then kept up the duel when Bruno Somenzi took over from Fletcher to finish out the contest.

The victory was the fourth for Salveson this season against three losses.

San Francisco acquired a first place tie with Los Angeles by defeating the San Diego Padres, 6 to 1, as the Angels lost to Hollywood, 4 to 2, evening their cross-town series at one game apiece.

The Seattle Rainiers scored two runs in the 10th inning to break a 3 to 3 tie and beat Oakland, 5 to 3. It was their second straight over the Oaks. Pitchers Rex Cecil and Sig Jakucki permitted Oakland only four scattered hits while the Rainiers got 12.
